REPORT

OF THE

ACCOUNTANTS.

To His Excellency, ELIAS N. CONWAY,
Governor of the State of Arkansas.

SIR: In compliance with the law under which we were appointed, and of your requisitions made in conformity with that law, we have diligently examined the books and papers relating to the Real Estate Bank of Arkansas. The general result of our researches is to be found in our answers to the questions proposed by you, and in the various abstracts thereunto appended.

The work has been one of no small difficulty. The accounts extended through a period of fourteen years, and embraced the transactions of five banks, in some respects independent of, and in others involved in peculiar ways with one another: besides which, the accounts of different boards of trustees, and different members of said boards, as well as those of cashiers, clerks, and attorneys, had all to be examined.

The labor has been not a little increased by the fact that the accounts at the different offices were not kept on uniform principles. And also, by the fact that, at some of the offices, but little attention was paid to some of the plainest rules of book-keeping, such for example, as recording every business transaction as soon as possible after its occurrence, and of recording it in such a way that it could not be misunderstood.

In some instances transactions were not brought on the books till months, or even years, after their occurrence. In other instances various items which ought to have been kept distinct, were mixed together. Thus, at one of the offices, whatever was paid out for salaries and other expenses of the Trust, was, as a general rule, stated as so much for "expenses," without specifying for what object those expenses had been incurred.

If a note was renewed, though not one cent was paid on it, all the formalities were gone through with, of making entries under the heads of deposits, interest and notes discounted. In this way the accounts were unnecessarily complicated.

Nor was this all. The Trustees had two standards of value; the first the legal coin of the United States; the second, Arkansas bank paper, which was subject to great variation. Sometimes, when payments were made to them in specie, or its equivalent, "good money" as they called it, credits were granted on the books to those who paid it in, in Arkansas funds, at the rate of two or three of Arkansas for one of "good money." Sometimes, on the contrary, when payments were made in Arkansas funds, credits were entered on the books for what was regarded as the equivalent thereof in specie.

What is most remarkable is, that the accounts of "good" and "bad money" received and paid away, were not kept in distinct columns. If we suppose a merchant to have receipts and payments in French francs, English sovereigns, and American dollars, and to carry all out in one column, without regard to their different values, we shall have a correct notion of the principles on which were kept the cash accounts of the trustees of the Real Estate Bank.

In some cases it is left to inference whether receipts and payments and settlements were in "good money," or in Arkansas funds. In most cases we have been able, by a careful collation of particulars to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion as to the medium used; but not in all. The records of the bank are not only very complicate: in some respects they are very deficient.

The assignment of the effects of the Real Estate Bank was made on the 2d of April, 1842. No pains were then taken to ascertain the exact condition of the principal bank and its branches; but, from the best accounts we can gather, their assets and liabilities were as follows:

Deposits	119,529 76
Due to banks in other States	27 87
Due to State Bank of Arkansas and branches	10,296 54

For 1530 bonds sold	1,530,000 00
For interest due on the same January 1, 1842	45,900 00
For additional interest that had accrued on the same to April 1, 1842	22,950 00
For money borrowed on 500 bonds hypothecated	121,336 59
For interest that had accrued on the same to April 1	7,648 00
	$2,257,558 32

According to this account, there was at that time a deficit of $25,932 90, in the means of the bank. But if the lands which the stockholders had pledged for their stock subscriptions be taken into the account, there was a surplus of $3,354,839 48: the said lands amounting to 207,101 acres, and having been valued by commissioners, under oath, at $3,380,772 38.

Under the powers granted to them by the deed of assignment, the Trustees proceeded to collect the debts due to the bank; but, according to a statement made by the Cashier and Secretary, they proceeded so slowly in the work, that, in the first four or five years they collected at the rate of only about sixty thousand dollars a year. As these collections were made chiefly in Arkansas bank notes and Arkansas State bonds, then worth on an average only fifty cents in the dollar, if worth so much, the payments made by the debtors to the bank, were equal to only about thirty thousand dollars a year in the legal coin of the United States.

Under this mode of procedure, the specie and specie funds the bank had on hand at the time of the assignment, were exhausted in paying the trustees and officers their salaries, in satisfying judgments obtained against the bank, and in defraying other expenses of the trust. To raise more specie, the plan was then adopted of commuting debts due to the bank, by receiving in payment for them specie or specie funds, at the rate of one dollar in specie for two or three in Arkansas paper. In other words, if a man owed one thousand dollars to the bank, he received a full acquittance on paying in five hundred dollars in specie, if the rate of Arkansas paper in the market was then two for one of specie; or on paying in $333⅓ if the rate was three to one. In this way were the assets of the bank diminished, without a proportionate decrease in its outstanding liabilities.

After this policy was adopted, the trustees proceeded more rapidly in the collection of the debts due to the bank. But, even under this system, enough "good money" was not collected to pay the trustees and officers their salaries and the other expenses of the trust. Then the expedient was resorted to of selling Arkansas State bonds and Arkansas bank notes at a discount. On one occasion they sold bonds and coupons of the face value of $20,362 for $4,000 in specie, or for less than twenty cents in the dollar. On the same day they sold $12,150 in Arkansas bank notes for $3,645, or at the rate of thirty cents in the dollar. The loss to the bank was, by this transaction, (including seventy-five dollars paid for brokerage,) twenty-four thousand nine hundred and forty-two dollars,

On other occasions, the trustees and officers received in payment of their salaries two or three dollars in Arkansas bank notes for one dollar due to them in specie. This was practically a scaling down of Arkansas bank notes, and by every transaction of this kind the outstanding liabilities of the bank were increased.

The aggregate losses to the bank, by commuting debts for one half or one-third of their face amount in specie, by sales of Arkansas State bonds and Arkansas bank notes, and by paying various expenses of the trust in Arkansas funds at the rate of two or three in paper for one of specie, were according to an account that has been rendered, $220,250 26. In the total is not included what was lost in this way at Columbia, the accounts of that office having been kept on such principles as to make it impossible to say what was there lost.

From the manner in which the books were kept, it is not practicable to give the precise amount of the different kind of means in which the trustees received payment. But from the best accounts we can gather, between the 2d of April, 1842, when the assignment was made, up to the 25th of April, 1855, when the affairs of the bank passed into the hands of a receiver, appointed by the court of chancery, there was collected from the debtors of the bank,

In gold and silver, par drafts, etc.,	$102,708 03
In State bonds and coupons	683,124 78
In Arkansas bank notes	489,378 67
In slaves	47,323 07
In real estate	566,255 85
In real estate and negroes	4,000 00
In Chicot county scrip	50 00
In swamp land scrip	2,482 90
	$1,895,323 30

Since the affairs of the bank passed into the hands of receivers, appointed by the court of chancery, there has been collected:

In Real Estate Bank bonds and coupons	$81,827 49
In State Bank bonds and coupons	77,752 75
In Real Estate Bank notes	35 00
In specie and other par funds	27,246 71
	$186,861 95

Making a total of $2,082,185 25, received from debtors to the bank, since the day of the assignment.

If to this amount be added the specie, the real estate, the State bonds, and other assets that were transferred under the deed of April 2, 1842, it will be found that the whole value that has passed into the hands of the trustees and receivers, is, (independently of notes and bills discounted,) $2,263 056.

The total collected by the trustees and the receivers, exceeds the amount that was due on notes and bills when the bank was put into liquidation: but so great was the delay of most of the debtors in making payments, that the amounts due by those who paid in full were swelled greatly by increments of interest, while others made only partial payments, and some none at all. In consequence of this, there is still due to the bank, for principal of notes and bills discounted, the sum of nine hundred and twenty-five thousand seven hundred and eighty-four dollars. Of this sum, notes and bills of the amount of four hundred and twenty thousand eight hundred and seventy-six dollars are judged by the receiver to be worthless; ninety-nine thousand six hundred and thirty dollars, to be doubtful; and four hundred and five thousand two hundred and seventy-seven dollars to be good. On the good debts, one hundred and forty thousand, four hundred and fifteen dollars are due for interest. If the interest on the bad and doubtful debts be included in the estimate, the whole amount still due to the bank for principal and interest of notes and bills discounted, is, one million, and two hundred and forty thousand dollars. Of this amount, it is supposed, about six hundred thousand dollars may be collected; namely, five hundred and fifty-five thousand six hundred and ninety-three dollars, for the principal and interest of the notes and bills, classsd as good, and the residue for principal and interest of part of the notes classed as doubtful and worthless.

In addition to these notes and bills, the bank has seventeen town lots, and upwards of eighty-three thousand acres of land: namely, sixty-one thousand and fourteen acres of stock lands, taken in payment of debts, or bought by the trustees under decrees of foreclosure and execution, and twenty-two thousand, one hundred and ninety-seven acres of other land, obtained in like manner. It has also the four lots in the town of Washington, (bought as a site for a banking house,) and the banking house and lots in the city of Little Rock.

Without investigations in the different counties, it is impossible to fix a value on these lands, but if we suppose them to be worth, on an average, as much as the stock lands were valued at, under oath, nineteen years ago, their aggregate value is one million three hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars. If we suppose their average value to be only half that officially given, their aggregate value is six hundred and eighty-two thousand dollars.

In addition to these, there are one hundred and forty-six thousand and eighty-six acres of the lands pledged by stockholders for the payment of their shares of stock. If they are of the worth officially affixed to them by the commissioners, their aggregate value is two million three hundred and eighty-four thousand dollars.

Supposing the lands taken in payment of debts, those purchased by the trustees under decrees of foreclosures and execucution, and the remaining stock lands, to be of the average worth declared by the commissioners, the aggregate value of the real estate secured and pledged for the payment of the debts of the bank is about three million, seven hundred and forty-nine thousand dollars; or one million, eight hundred and seventy-four thousand dollars, if the lands be of only one-half the value at which they were officially rated nineteen years ago.

There are a few other assets, namely, Chicot county scrip of the face value of four thousand four hundred dollars, swamp land scrip of the value of two thousand four hundred and eighty-two dollars, about five hundred dollars in specie, and six five per cent. bonds, amounting with the interest on them to ten thousand one hundred and twenty-five dollars. These bonds are not part of those that were issued to procure capital for the bank; but some of those issued by the State for money borrrowed from the bank for State purposes, soon after the bank commenced operations.

If we include the notes and bills discounted of every description, and the interest thereon, if we suppose the lands to be of the average worth they were when valued by the commissioners, and if we add the miscellaneous items, the gross value of whatever is secured and pledged for the redemption of the bonds and the discharge of the other liabilities of the bank, is five million and six thousand dollars.

If we suppose that only six hundred thousand dollars will be collected on account of what is due for notes and bills discounted, and that the lands are of only half the worth affixed to them by the commissioners, the net value of whatever is or may be made available for the discharge of the debts of the bank, is two million four hundred and ninety-two thousand dollars.

The debts due by the bank, at this time, excepting those due on the bond account, are of little importance. The notes in circulation have all been redeemed, with the exception of notes amounting to fifteen thousand, two hundred and eighty dollars, most of which, it is presumable, have been lost or destroyed, and which cannot consequently be presented for payment. The amount due to depositors and on miscellaneous accounts is eighteen thousand, three hundred and sixty-nine dollars. The whole of the outstanding obligations of the bank, exclusive of what is due on the bond account, is only thirty-three thousand, six hundred and forty-nine dollars.

Of the one thousand, five hundred and thirty bonds that were sold to procure capital for the bank, three hundred and seventy have been redeemed, leaving outstanding one thousand, one hundred and sixty bonds for one thousand dollars each, amounting with the interest on them, October 1, 1856, to two million, one hundred and forty-seven thousand nine hundred and thirty dollars.

Besides this amount, there is due for money borrowed on five hundred bonds hypothecated with the North American Trust and Banking Company, and for interest on the same, the sum of two hundred and thirty-four thousand, one hundred seventy nine dollars and sixty cents.

The total amount due on the bond account, is, two million, three hundred and eighty-two thousand, one hundred and nine dollars and sixty cents.

The total due by the bank, at the present time, on every account, is, two million, four hundred and fifteen thousand, seven hundred and fifty-nine dollars and twenty-six cents.

Tne present condition of the bank may be presented in another form, as follows :

GROSS ASSETS.

Notes and bills discounted, on hand, of every description, including interest on the same	$1,240,000 00
Lots and lands taken in payment of debts, or purchased at sales under decrees of foreclosure and execution, rating them at the value affixed to them by the commissioners	1,365,000 00
Remaining stock lands rated at the value affixed to them by the commissioners	2,384,000 00
Miscellaneous assets	17,507 53
Total of gross assets	$5,006,507 53

NET ASSETS.

Notes and bills discounted, classed as "good,"	$405,277 26
Interest on the same to October 1, 1856	140,415 85
Principal and interest that will probably be collected of notes classed as "doubtful and worthless,"	54,306 89
Lots and lands taken in payment of debts, and estimated at half the rate declared by the commissioners	682,500 00
Remaining stock lands estimated at half the rates declared by the commissioners	1,192,000 00
Miscellaneous assets	17,507 53
Total of net assets	$2,492,007 53

LIABILITIES.

Due for notes in circulation	$15,280 00
Due to depositors and others	18,369 66
Due for 1,169 R. E. Bank bonds remaining unredeemed, and for interest on the same to October 1, 1856	2,147,930 00
Due for money borrowed on bonds hypothecated and for interest on the same to October 1, 1856	234,179 60
	$2,415,759 26

It is impossible for us to say what is the true value of the lands; and even in rating them at one-half the price at which they were rated by the commissioners, we may have rated them too high. Whatever their true worth may be, only a part of that worth may, owing to the legal and other obstacles that may be interposed, be ultimately recovered. As great part of the assets consists of lands, great care will be necessary to see that they are not lost to the State, through sales for taxes, and in other ways.

The interest on the bonds remaining outstanding, and on the money borrowed on bonds hypothecated, is $76,880 per annum. To this must be added the necessary expenses of winding up the affairs of the bank.

On the other hand, the interest of the bills and notes discounted, classed as "good," and remaining unpaid, amounts, at 8 per cent., to $32,400 a year. But in proportion as the principal of this class of debts is paid, the income from this source will be diminished.

Some facts which are necessary for a full understanding of the subject, but which could not be conveniently introduced into this report, are appended in the form of a historical sketch.

Referring you for further information to our answers to your interrogatories, and to the abstracts herewith submitted,

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

About the year 1830, the banking interest was not powerful in the west. The whole number of banks in the Mississippi valley was, (if we except those of western Pennsylvania and western Virginia,) only twenty, But owing to a concurrence of causes which need not here be enumerated, the system, in the next few years rapidly extended itself, and reached its culminating point just about the time that Arkansas was admitted into the Union.

The constitution of the State provided for the establishment of two banks. The subject that first engaged the attention of the first legislature that assembled under this constitution, was that of banking. The first act that was passed by it, was the act to establish the Real Estate Bank; and the second was the act to establish the State Bank.

The advantages that were expected to be derived from these institutions, are very distinctly set forth in a report from the committee on banking, submitted to the legislature by Mr. Ringgold, on the 4th of October, 1836.

"The privilege of banking," said the committee, "is certainly of infinite value, and it is doubtless susceptible of vast improvements as well in regard to revenue as the interests of the people. * * * * * * * * *

"The charter of the State Bank pledges the faith of the State for one million of dollars; and it has been the policy of other States to procure means from foreign capitalists, and little doubt remains but the present period of time is esteemed to be the most auspicious for such a purpose, as it is believed that the State could borrow any desirable amount of capital at an annual charge of five per centum, if not upon better terms. That capital being loaned at eight per centum per annum, being three per centum in favor of the State, added to the banking privilege of issuing three for one on the actual capital so vested, will produce an accumulation sufficient to redeem the whole in less than twenty years. * * * * * * * * *

"Arkansas, should we not charter the banks asked for, will be at least twenty years behind where she would be, if a liberal policy is extended by the present legislature. * * *

"There is no view of the subject, as regards the State Bank charter, but what the result is of infinite value to the State. * *

"All these things properly considered, will, in the opinion of the committee, do away all those idle prejudices so commonly entertained against banking institutions, without any assignable reasons, other than those founded on want of sufficient information as regards the beneficial effects."

When this legislature assembled the whole debt of the State was less than nine thousand dollars. Before it adjourned it passed acts to involve the State in debt to the amount of more than three millions, through the issue of bonds, by the sale of which capital was to be procured to put the banks in operation.

At this very moment, though Mr. Ringgold and his co-adjutors were ignorant of it, the banking system of the Union had received a blow from the effects of which it did not recover for years.

Among the causes of its extension was the free sale of American securities in the London market. A failure in the harvest in England having created a great demand in that country for gold for export to buy breadstuffs, the Bank of England found itself under the necessity of diminishing its issues, and especially of curtailing the credits it had so liberally granted to the "American houses," that is, to the private banking and brokerage firms in London that dealt largely in State bonds and other American securities. This curtailment of their accommodations compelled the "American houses" in London to press on their connections in the United States, who in their turn pressed on the rest of the community. About the same time the Congress of the United States passed an act to distribute "the surplus revenue" among the States. The measure would have been a wise one if "the surplus revenue" had existed in the form of "surplus specie" in the vaults of the banks. But this "surplus revenue" never had an existence, except in the form of mere inscriptions of credit on the books of "the Pet Banks;" and through the efforts that were made to transfer these book credits, from point to point, without any regard to the laws of trade, all the banks in the Union, in May, 1837, stopped specie payments.

Under these circumstances, it was impossble to find a sale for Arkansas bonds bearing five per cent. interest, and the next legislature, which commenced its session, Nov. 7, 1837, took measures to raise the rate to six per cent.

Great pains were taken to persuade the people that they would never be called on to pay either the principal or the interest of these bonds. Thus, Mr. John Wilson, the first President of the Real Estate Bank, in a report made in Nov., 1837, after stating that the stockholders had mortgaged to the State 127,500 acres of land valued at $2,603,000, proceeded as follows:

"When it is taken into consideration that the State has a lien on $603,900 worth of property, more than her own guarantee amounts to, and against which she could have recourse at any time, in the event of that necessity. And when it is further taken into consideration that these lands which stand as a permanent security to the State, are among the very best in the United States— that a large portion of them are highly improved—that nearly fifteen thousand acres of them are already in a state of cultivation—that cultivation is rapidly extending, yearly enhancing their value—that they are in a region of country where the production of cotton must ever make them valuable—that they must ever furnish the greater portion of the exports of the State, and add to its wealth—it cannot be doubted, and the undersigned is convinced that every candid individual of this community will be fully satisfied that the security furnished by the stockholders of the Real Estate Bank is so full and ample, that, had it not been cheerfully offered by the stockholders themselves, it could in truth be said it is so far beyond what is actually necessary for that security, that it would be injustice in the State to ask it from the citizens—that, in fact, too large an amount of property has been locked up, and that the State has taken a security, which individuals, in the ordinary transactions of men, would have deemed as unnecessary and oppressive—a policy which it is believed no government, when exercising its power to promote the individual interests of its citizens, should ever pursue. It is not, however, mentioned here, by the undersigned, as a matter of complaint, but that those who may have entertained fears for the safety of the State, may know their fears have been idle and unnecessary, and that those who have evinced their hostility to the success of the institution over which he has the honor to preside, and have thrown obstacles in the way of its going into operation, may at last see that the founders of it have placed it on a basis of such permanent safety, both to the State and to individuals, as to leave themselves beyond the reach of suspicion or censure, and the security of the institution itself, beyond a doubt.

"It has been estimated that the appraisers have over-valued the property which stands pledged as this security. To say such is the fact, would be hazarding an assertion which the undersigned is not willing to make. The individuals who were appointed by the Executive, as appraisers, to appraise the property of subscribers for stock in the Real Estate Bank, to fix upon its fair cash value, and furnish certificates of the same, were men personally known to the Governor, as gentlemen of standing, character and intelligence, or were recommended to him as such by members of this legislature, some of whom are members present. They were required, and did, in all cases, give their certificates under oath. Every appraisement has appended to it the certificate of a magistrate, certifying that the appraisers, whose names were signed thereto, had appeared before him, and sworn to the facts there set forth. And every set of papers now in the possession of the Bank, has one or more of these certificates accompanying them. To say, or to doubt, that these gentlemen had not faithfully, and to the best of their knowledge and belief, executed the duties to which they were appointed, would be casting a reflection on them, which no individual would be justified in doing—one at least, which the undersigned would consider as illiberal and unjust. It is, nevertheless, possible that the changes which have come over the country, within the last few months, may, in some instances, have depressed the value of property, and brought it for a while below the estimate fixed upon it before these changes occurred. But it is known that the very highest valued piece of property mortgaged to the bank, and which stands as a security to the State at about $48 per acre, has been sold within a very few weeks past to an individual entirely responsible for his contracts, at $70 per acre."

The act to raise the rate of interest on the State bonds, bore date Dec. 19, 1837. In a few months afterwards (May, 1838,) the banks of New York and New England resumed specie payments. This in some degree, restored public confidence, but still no market could be found for the Arkansas State bonds, issued for the benefit of the Real Estate Bank, till September, 1838, when five hundred of them for one thousand dollars each, were disposed of to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and one thousand of them for one thousand dollars each, to the North American Trust and Banking Company at New York.

The delay in the sale of the bonds appears to have been attended with no evil to the great body of the people of the State. For Mr. A. H. Davies, the second President of the Real Estate Bank, in a report dated Nov. 26, 1838, a few days before the bank commenced regular business, declared that—

"Amid the general distress, the loss of credit, and the want of confidence which followed the suspension of the banks throughout the Union, no State in it has stood up from out the general ruin nor with a better credit than the State of Arkansas. It has been almost a guaranty to the business men of our Northern cities to be known as one of her citizens, such has been the promptness and punctuality of her merchants during all the recent severe pressure."

"A very short time" added Mr. Davies, "will elapse before the beneficial effects arising from the use of foreign capital introduced into the State through our banking institutions will be felt and seen. They will be felt in the relief from pressing debts; in enabling us to comply with all, or nearly all, our monied obligations at home and abroad; and in the satisfaction of knowing that we are free from embarrassments—and will be seen in the extension of our plantations and villages; in opening the numerous sources of wealth scattered throughout the State; in the increase of our cultivation and exports; in the improvements and comforts added to our homes; and in the attention paid to the education of the rising generation; and in the spread of intelligence and refinement among all classes of our citizens."

With these views and expectations, the office of the principal bank at Little Rock, opened its doors regularly for business on the 12th of December, 1838, and so vigorous was its action; that in less than a month, it made loans and discounts to the amount of $568,290 92. The Helena office was opened February 15th, the Columbia, March 5th, and the Washington, April 1st, 1839. By their combined action, the loans and discounts of the bank were by the 29th of May, made to amount to $1,290,339 22, and by the 31st of October, to $1,585,190 80.

Nov. 2, 1839, the principal bank at Little Rock suspended specie payments, and was quickly imitated therein by the branches.

If reasons should be required why a bank that commenced operations with a solid capital of one million and a half of dollars, should, in less than one year suspend specie payments, and then when its loans and discounts exceeded its original capital in the sum of only $85,190 80, none can be found except in the fact that the managers wished to extend their loans and discounts further than would be practicable, if they continued to pay specie. That this was the true motive, is evident for a kind of proclamation which was, by order of the central board, issued by Carey A. Harris, the president of the principal bank, in which, among other things, he said:

"As long as the bank paid specie, it was found impossible to keep out as much money as the public wants and the business of the country rendered proper." And again: "It cannot but be proper that a prudent expansion of the currency of the State should be produced—an expansion which should, and it is hoped, will be so gradual and guarded as to avoid a too stinted accommodation to the public on the one hand, and an unduly depreciated currency on the other."

It is true that the banks of Philadelphia, which had professed to resume specie payments in October, 1838, suspended them again in October, 1839, and were imitated therein by the banks of the south and west generally.

It is true that this second general suspension by the banks of the south and west, afforded the Real Estate Bank a pretext for suspending also. But the real causes of its suspension were such as are set forth in the extracts from the proclamation of the President of the principal bank. This second suspension, though general, did not embrace all the banks of the south and west. None of the banks in the adjoining State of Missouri then suspended, and the Real Estate Bank of Arkansas was at that time as well able to maintain specie payments as were the banks of Missouri, or any of the banks of New York or New England. Its whole oustanding circulation was then only $156,910 to meet which it had in specie $111,967 54, a proportion of specie to paper which banks do not often possess. This circulation was scattered all over the State, and over the adjoining States, and could not be presented for payment in the mass, as part of it was payable at the principal bank, and the rest divided among the three branches.

Nothing could be easier than for a bank so situated, to maintain specie payments. But if it did so, the directors and their friends could not be accommodated to the extent desired. The first instalment on the stock notes was falling due. The stockholders and others owed also on accommodation notes many of which were over-due: It had been very easy to borrow from the bank. It was not so easy to pay back even a part of what had been borrowed. The readiest way of meeting the emergency, was, by the bank itself suspending specie payments, in which case it need not press for payment of what had been lent: but, on the contrary, could grant new accommodations to its customers.

The directors then proceeded to carry into execution their plan for "a prudent expansion of the currency," and between the 1st of November, 1839 and the 1st of January, 1840, increased the circulation of the bank from $153,910 to $328,400. In other words, in the short period of two months they more than doubled their issues. In the same time they increased their loans and discounts from $1,585,190 to $1,830,259. But even this was in their opinion "too stinted an accommodation to the public," and accordingly they added to their issues so much, that in May they amounted to about $759,000, being five fold what they were six months before when the bank suspended specie payment.

This free emission of paper money, not redeemable in specie, of course diminished its value: and according to an entry in the Journal of the House of Representatives it fell at times to 35 and 40 per cent. below par. How far, in the opinion of the directors, a paper currency might sink below the specie standard without being "unduly depreciated," does not distinctly appear. But it is evident that they regarded 30 to 40 per cent, as too much, for on the 1st of May they resolved that "a committee of four be appointed to devise the ways and means for securing if practicable the appreciation in value of the paper of this bank." And, on the 11th of said month, they "resolved to appoint an agent to proceed to New Orleans for the purpose of making arrangements, if practicable, for the appreciation of our paper." What these arrangements were, is not mentioned, but they seem not to have been very effective, as in the latter part of September, 1840, by which time the circulation was considerably reduced, the cashier states that Real Estate Bank notes were then, at Little Rock, at 35 to 40 per cent. discount. Afterwards the notes appear to have increased in value, as an entry in the House Journal under date of November 24, 1840, speak of them as being then at only 14 to 20 per cent. discount.

Under this "prudent expansion of the currency" the "too stinted accommodation of the public," was increased between November 1st, 1839 and May, 1840, in an amount not exactly known. After May there was some reduction in the loans and discounts, yet they, on the 1st of November, 1840, amounted to $2,158,869 57, while on the 1st of November of the preceeding year, they were only $1,585,190 80.

While the bank was thus extending its circulation and increasing its loans and discounts, it did not collect enough in bona fide funds to pay the interest on the State bonds. To meet this demand and some others of a pressing nature, it pledged the State bonds that remained unsold, to the amount of $500,000, with the New York Trust and Banking Company, expecting to receive thereon $250,000, but obtaining in reality only $121,336 59. The North American Trust and Banking Company, by a breach of faith, passed over these same bonds to James Holford, a banker of London, and received from him an advance of $350,000. This was a subject of much after difficulty: the State justly contending that the bank had no right to dispose of the bonds in this way; and the bank as justly contending that the North American Trust and Banking Company had no right to part with them in the manner it did.

After May, 1840, the directors reduced both their loans and discounts, as will appear from a comparison of the following returns:

	Circulation.	Loan and discounts.
November 28, 1840	$609,045	$2,158,869 57
March 31, 1841	517,967	2,038,107 18
September 30, 1841	410,995	2,000,085 18
April 2, 1842	394,869	1,923,241 39

Reductions so small as these could not, under the circumstances then existing, restore the credit of the bank. On the 2d of April, 1842, the Executive Board made an assignment of all the effects of the institution, to certain of their own number, and other directors of the bank, fifteen in all, but carefully excluding from the trust all the directors appointed on the part of the State.

This proceeding did not give universal satisfaction. The local boards at Little Rock and Washington refused to surrender such of the effects of the bank as they held: and the board at Little Rock inscribed on their minutes fifteen reasons for so doing. Among the most prominent were, that the Central Board had done what they had no authority to do, the charter not having granted to them, and the stockholders not having delegated to them the power to make an assignment. Also, "that the trustees are indebted to said bank, in a large amount, at least one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and that no provision is made in the deed by which the same can be collected, it being a well settled principle in law that trustees cannot sue themselves."

The trustees sought to compel the local board at Little Rock to surrender the assets in their hands by bringing the case before Judge Clendenin, sitting as Chancellor of Pulaski Circuit Court; but he declined to interfere on the ground of want of jurisdiction.

They then brought the case before the Supreme Court, and Judges Dickenson and Lacy decided that the assignment was both valid and expedient. Judge Ringo dissented from this opinion.

Governor Yell had a motion made that the case should be reconsidered. But this produced nothing but a flurish from Judge Dickenson, (himself a debtor to the bank) about the virtue and independence of the Judiciary.

In this way was an assignment made by debtors to themselves, for their own benefit, confirmed, and the State and the bondholders, the parties most deeply interested in its good management, deprived of all share in the trust.

When the legislature met on the 7th of November, 1842, Governor Yell, in his message to them, denounced the whole banking system of the State as productive of nothing but evil; and as the Real Estate Bank had been guilty of wilful and palpable violations of its chartered privileges, he suggested the propriety of revoking its charter, if that could be constitutionally effected.

"The effect upon the State under the assignment, is," he said, "to place the assets and management of the bank, beyond her control, and to throw the whole responsibility upon the State to pay the interest on the bonds now due."

To the same legislature the trustees presented a memorial in which they stated that they were willing to surrender their charter, so far as related to banking privileges, and proposed that a board of commissioners should be appointed by the legislature with all the powers necessary to be exercised by a board of visitation and inspection. Also, that the powers of a corporation should be given them to wind up the affairs of the bank.

The Assembly passed, and the Governor approved, January 31st, 1843, "An act to settle and liquidate the affairs of the Real Estate bank of Arkansas." This act gave a sanction to all the important provisions of the deed of assignment, and granted the trustees all the additional powers they had asked for. But it provided that instead of fifteen self appointed trustees, there should be ten elected by the stockholders, and five by the General Assembly.

It does not appear from the minutes that the trustees even so much as took the act into consideration. Rather than give up their self-constituted trust, they chose to forfeit the charter of the bank, which was accordingly done by a decree of the Supreme Court, July 29th, 1844.

It was further provided that if the stockholders should not accept of the Liquidation Act, the Circuit Court of Pulaski county should appoint ten trustees who, with five elected by the General Assembly, should wind up the affairs of the bank. And, also, that the Governor should cause the several prosecuting attorneys for the State to sue every stockholder on his stock bond and mortgage.

The General Assembly elected five trustees, but, through some unexplained reason, the other provisions of the law were never carried into effect; and the self-appointed trustees continued to act as if no such law had been passed.

In April, 1844, they chose five of their own number for residuary trustees, and committed to them the whole management of the trust.

At each successive session, from 1842 onwards, the attention of the legislature was called to the Real Estate Bank, by the Governor, and committees were, from time to time, appointed to inquire into its affairs; but there was no further legislative action on the subject till 12th of January, 1853, when an act was passed, "directing the Attorney General to file a bill in chancery to divest the trustees of the Real Estate Bank of the assets of that institution." This was followed by an act, passed January 15th, 1855, "to aid in bringing to light the true condition of the Real Estate Bank of the State of Arkansas;" and, again, by another passed on the same day "to establish a separate Court of Chancery at the seat of government, so that the causes of the State, including that against the trustees and officers of the Real Estate Bank, and those of individuals may be determined as early as practicable."

Under proceedings instituted under these acts, a decree was rendered in the Court of Chancery, on the 20th of April, 1855, by which the said trustees were divested of all the assets of the Real Estate Bank, and the same were on the 25th day of the said month and year transferred to the Receiver appointed by the Court of Chancery.

INTERROGATORIES

WITH THE ANSWERS THEREUNTO.

1. The amount of bonds outstanding and interest at the time of the assignment? The amount since taken in, and when, and by whom; and whether on account of debts due to the bank or by purchase or otherwise?

Answer, 1. The amount of Real Estate Bank bonds that had been sold was $1,530,000, on which, one-half year's interest, amounting to $45,900, was due on the 1st of January, 1842, and remained unpaid at the time of the assignment. The whole amount of interest that had accrued on these bonds, up to April 1, 1842, was $68,550; but, of this sum, $22,950 were not due, and could not be demanded before the 1st of July following.

Besides the bonds sold, 500 bonds for $1,000 each had been pledged to the North American Trust and Banking Company, at New York, and money borrowed thereon to the amount of $121,-336 59. The interest that had accrued thereon, was, according a statement made by the cashier and secretary of the Real Estate Bank, $7,648.

The total amount of bonds sold, of dividends due thereon, and of money borrowed on bonds pledged, was, at the time of the assignment, $1,697,236 59. The total, including interest that had accrued, both on bonds sold and on money borrowed on bonds pledged, was $1,727,834 59.

2. The records of the bank do not, in all cases, distinguish between State Bank bonds and Real Estate Bank bonds, received by the trustees and their agents. But, as nearly as can be ascertained, from the time of the assignment, April 2, 1842, up to April 25, 1855, when the affairs of the bank passed into the hands of a receiver, appointed by the court of chancery, the sum of $491,148 63 was received in Real Estate Bank bonds and coupons.

In addition thereto, the receivers appointed by the court of chancery, have, between the 28th of April, 1855, and the 1st of October, 1856, received the sum of $81,827 49 in Real Estate Bank bonds and coupons, making the gross amount received since the date of the assignment, $572,976 12.

3. These bonds were, up to June 1853, received by Mr. Thos.

W. Newton, as cashier and secretary, sometimes through the medium of the clerks of the different offices, or that of the trustees and attorneys who collected them from the debtors of the bank. After that they were, up to April 15; 1855, received in the same way, by Mr. Gordon N. Peay, the successor of Mr. Newton, in the office of cashier and secretary. Those subsequently received have been taken in by the receiver appointed by the court of chancery. The sources from which the bonds were received, and on what account, are set forth in the Abstract marked No. 1.

4. In all cases the bonds and coupons appear to have been received in payment of debts due to the bank. In no cases were purchases made of them with Arkansas bank notes or the other funds of the bank. But, in a few instances, in which the amount of bonds and coupons paid in by individual debtors, exceeded the amount due by them to the bank, the surplus was, as was necessary to adjust the accounts, refunded to them in Arkansas Bank notes.

II. The amount of the circulation of the bank at the time of the assignment? How much has since been taken in or redeemed; and whether in payment of debts or otherwise; and when and by whom? What amount is still outstanding? Whether the amount taken in was taken in at par or scaled down? Whether any that has been taken in or redeemed, has again been put in circulation, and when, and by whom, and on what account; or been paid out; and when, or to whom, and on what account, and whether at par or at market value, and what value?

Answer, 1. The gross circulation at the time of the assignment was, according to the accounts rendered, $495,725: but in this sum was included a large amount of Real Estate Bank notes on hand at the principal bank and the different offices. The net circulation, or the amount outstanding and in the hands of the peeople, it is impossible to tell, owing to some of the offices not having made the proper distinction between Real Estate Bank notes and other bank notes on hand. As well as can be ascertained, the net circulation did not exceed $394,869 56, and was probably some $15,000 or $20,000 less, On this subject, see "The Compendious View," marked No. 31 B, where the accounts from the different offices are collated.

2. The whole amount of notes issued, and prepared for issue, by the Real Estate Bank and its branches, was $854,650. Of this amount $50,000 were burned on the 25th of June, 1841. This left for the whole amount to be accounted for at the time of the assignment, $804,560, less than one-half of which were in circulation, and the residue of which were on hand at the different offices. Subsequently to this, various amounts were burnt at the dates following, viz:

November 14, 1842	$190,220
April 3, 1844	144,510
November 16, 1850	400,000
	$734,730

At the last mentioned date, there were on hand, notes to the amount of $14,040, and the amount in the hands of the people was $55,840.

In the next two years, the outstanding circulation was reduced in the amount of $3,860. After this the work of redemption proceeded but slowly, as the whole amount redeemed in the year ending November, 1853, appears to have been only twenty-five dollars. As the successor of Mr. Newton, in the office of cashier and secretary, Mr. Peay redeemed outstanding notes to the amount of $2,585 in seventeen months; and Mr. Noland, as Receiver, redeemed fifty dollars in seven months.

According to this account, when Mr. Mr. Peay became receiver in November, 1855, the outstanding circulation was $49,320. Of this amount he had redeemed, up to October 1, 1856, the sum of $34,040; leaving $15,280 then outstanding. Of this last amount it is probable a great portion has been lost or destroyed.

3. While the affairs of the bank were under the control of the trustees, circulating notes to the amount of $40,292 appear to have been redeemed with specie: the greater part thereof, $34,410 in consequence of suits brought against the trust. The residue redeemed by the trustees, say $300,000, were redeemed by receiving the circulating notes in payment of debts due to the bank, except $32,666 67, which were redeemed by giving for them 32 five per cent. State bonds. In some instances the redemption was made in an indirect way, by giving, in exchange for Real Estate Bank notes, State bonds and coupons that had previously been received in payment of debts due to the bank. The amount redeemed in this way was $92,700.

4. These redemptions were made chiefly by the cashier and secretary, and by the clerks at the different offices, at the times set forth in the respective accounts current herewith submitted and marked Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 30. In certain cases the immediate receipt of the notes was by the trustees and attorneys, who, in some instances, kept the sums thus collected for a long time in their hands, and in others paid them over to the cashier and secretary without unreasonable delay.

5. When Real Estate Bank notes were received, it was as a general rule at the rate of dollar for dollar of the debts due to the bank. There never was a formal scaling down of Real Estate Bank notes when they were received, a few cases excepted in which such notes were taken in payment of special "good money" debts. But there was what amounted substantially to the same thing when ordinary debts due to the bank were commuted for one-half or one-third or their face amount in "good money."

6. The notes that were taken in were re-issued again and again, by the cashier and secretary, and by the clerks at the different offices as often as occasion required; but to what extent it is impossible to say, as they did not in all cases distinguish between notes of the Real Estate Bank and notes of the State Bank.

The notes thus paid out were not regarded as at par with specie; but as worth one-half, one-third, or one-fourth of their face amount in specie. There was thus a formal scaling down of Real Estate Bank notes when they were passed over to the trustees in payment of their salaries, or otherwise used in defraying the expenses of the trust, two hundred, three hundred, or four hundred dollars, in Arkansas notes, being then regarded as the equivalent of one hundred dollars in specie.

On one, occasion, as appears from an entry in the trustees' journal, under date of January 30, 1848, the sum of $12,150 of notes of the State Bank were disposed of in order to raise the sum of $3,645 in "good funds," as one of the ways of raising means for the professed object of removing certain incumbrances from the lands of Rezin Bowie and Moses Burnett. The loss to the bank by this operation was $8,505. The effect was the same as if this amount of Real Estate Bank notes had thus been disposed of: for these notes ($12,150) might have been exchanged with the State Bank for an equal amount of Real Estate Bank notes.

III. Whether any of the Real Estate Bank notes taken in have been exchanged for bonds or coupons, or State Bank paper, or other paper securities, and when and by whom?

Answer. In a few instances, (as mentioned in reply to the first interrogatory,) when debtors paid in State bonds, amounting, with the interest thereon, to more than they owed to the bank, the surplus was refunded to them in Real Estate bank notes. The whole amount of Real Estate Bank notes exchanged in this way for State bonds and coupons, did not exceed $1,200.

In no other way do the trustees or their officers appear to have exchanged Real Estate Bank notes for bonds or coupons, State Bank paper, or other paper securities.

IV. The debts due by said bank and interest at the time of the assignment? To whom due: whether in specie or otherwise? How many have been discharged since; when and by whom; in what manner; in what kind of funds; and what amount of debts are still due by said bank or trustees; and how much interest has accumulated thereon; and what rate of interest do they bear? What debts have been created since; and how and how much has been paid on such debts; in what manner and what kind of funds; and what amount is still due?

Answer 1. Measures were not taken at the time of the assignment to ascertain the exact condition of the bank. Returns have been found from the offices at Little Rock, Columbia and Washington, of the date of March 31, 1842, from the office at Helena, of the date of March 23, and from the office at Van Buren, for some day in February, not designated. From these returns a synopsis has been prepared, which is herewith submitted, marked No. 31, C. It fails in several respects to show the exact amount of the liabilities of the bank at the time of the assignment.

The assets of the different offices were transferred to the trustees at different dates, namely, Columbia, April 13, 1842, Helena, May 26, 1842, Little Rock, August 15, 1842, and Van Buren, September 9, 1842. But those at Washington, not till December 18, 1843. There is a compend in the hand writing of the cashier and secretary, apparently prepared some time afterwards, embracing the returns from the different offices at the time their assets were transferred to the trustees, except the Washington office, the returns for which are dated Nov. 3, 1842. But it is evident that this compend was never regarded as giving the exact condition of the bank, as Mr. Newton, in a letter to Governor Drew, under date of Oct. 16, 1846, speaks of the amount of notes as shown by it to be in circulation, as "a rough estimate," and "hastily prepared."

From returns of the dates given by Mr. Newton, and from such other sources as we could command, we have prepared a "Compendious View" which is submitted in conjunction with Mr. Newton's "Condensed Statement."

We have also prepared, and herewith submit, "A View of the Condition of the Offices of the Real Estate Bank, according to the most explicit returns made by them in the year 1842."

None of these compends show the condition of the bank with all the exactness that is desirable, either at the time of the assignment, or on any other day in the year 1842.

According to Mr. Newton's "Condensed Statement," the bank then owed for notes in circulation	$419,925 00
To depositors and other banks	165,410 45
	$585,335 45

To which should be added, according to a statement by him, in a letter addressed to Governor Drew, Oct. 30, 1848.

For the principal of 1530 bonds sold and outstanding	$1,530,000 00
For interest on the same then due	75,735 00
For amount received on 500 hypothecated bonds	122,389 17
For interest due on the same	7,648 00
	$1,735,772 77

The sums due on bond account, added to what was due for circulation and to other banks, would make a total of $2,321,108 22. But this amount was too great, as, among the notes stated to be in circulation, were included notes of the Real Estate Bank on hand at the different offices, and among the sums due to other banks, was included what some of the offices of the Real Estate Bank owed to one another.

According to our "Compendious View," the liabilities of the bank about the time of the assignment, were

For notes in circulation	$394,869 56
For deposits	119,529 76
Due to banks in other States	27 87
Due to the State Bank of Arkansas and branches	10,296 54
Bonus due to the State, December, 1841	5,000 00
	$529,723 73

To which should be added,

For 1530 bonds sold	$1,530,000 00
For interest due on the same January 1, 1842	45,900 00
For additional interest that had accrued on the same to April 1, 1842	22,950 00
For money borrowed on bonds hypothecated	121,336 59
For interest that had accrued on the same	7,648 00
	$1,727,834 59

This makes the total $2,257,558 32, which is $63,549 90 less than would be inferred from Mr. Newton's estimate. But, even our amount is too great, as there is reason to believe that from $15,000 to $20,000 of notes of the Real Estate Bank were on hand at the Washington office, and that a large part of the deposits were not demandable, but were part payments on notes discounted.

The probability is, that, independently of what was due on bond account, the liabilities of the bank did not at the time of the assignment, exceed $450,000.

2. Of the amount due for bonds, upwards of $500,000 was due to the U. S. treasury department for an investment made by it of the funds of the Smithsonian Institute. The residue was due to various parties in the Atlantic States and Europe.

The amount due for notes in circulation and for deposits was chiefly owing to citizens of the State of Arkansas.

The amount due on bonds was due in specie. The notes in circulation, were, according to the obligation expressed on the face of them, payable in specie; but as the bank had been for about eighteen months in a state of suspension, gold or silver could not be obtained for the notes but by suing for it. A small portion of the deposits were payable in specie; the rest in Arkansas paper.

3. Of the debts due at the time of the assignment, those owing to depositors have (with the exception of $1,678 52) been liquidated, partly by payments to them, and partly by passing the amounts to their credits on account of notes due by them. Of those owing to holders of the notes of the bank then in circulation, all were paid up to April 25, 1855, when the affairs of the bank passed into the hands of a receiver, except $49,905. Since that time, there have been redeemed up to October 1, 1856, $34,040, leaving then outstanding $15,280.

The manner in which the notes were redeemed, is given in the answer to question 2.

Of the debt due for bonds sold, and for interest thereon, the sum of $572,976 12, has been discharged by receiving bonds and coupons in payment of debts due to the bank.

All the bonds bear six per cent. interest.

4. By paying out Real Estate Bank notes in defraying the expenses of the trust, new debts were created to that amount; but these have since been liquidated by receiving such notes back again in payments of debts due to the bank.

Other debts were created by receiving Real Estate Bank notes on deposit, and allowing interest thereon. And again, others by judgments against the bank, obtained by private individuals, who held its notes, and sued for their payment in gold or silver.

The debts remaining due by the bank, on the 1st of October, 1856, may be summed up as follows:

For notes in circulation	$15,280 00
For deposits made previous to the assignment	1,678 52
For deposits made during the time of the trust	717 76
For special deposits made with the receiver	2,664 01
For amount due to D. Ringo on decree in chancery	1,174 69
For salaries due to trustees	5,099 18
For salaries due to receiver and attorneys	4,285 50
For taxes due on lands and town lots for the present year	2,750 00
For principal and interest remaining due on bonds sold	2,147,930 00
For money borrowed on hypothecated bonds	121,336 59
For interest on the same to October 1, 1856	112,843 01
	$2,415,759 26

V. Total amount due to the bank by stockholders, and non-stockholders, exclusive of back interest	$1,923,243 46
Total amount of back interest due, according to a calculation made by Mr. T. W. Newton, cashier and secretary	76,950 61
Total amount for which stockholders were responsible, both as principals and sureties	1,677,214 15
Total amount for which non-stockholders were alone responsible	246,029 31

All these debts were, according to the face of the obligation, payable in specie; but the bank having some years previous suspended specie payments, it was generally understood that these debts could be discharged in the bank's own notes, or other depreciated paper.

The stock notes, which were secured by bond and mortgage, at the Little Rock, Helena, Columbia, and Washington offices, amounted in the aggregate to $907,962 33. At the Van Buren office, no stock notes were given. But the stockholders gave mortgages on their lands, which, it is presumable, are bound for their discounts, amounting to $119,856 52. To this sum, add $12,935, for notes at the Helena office, secured by deeds of trust, and we shall have a total of $1,040,754 05 of debt secured by real estate. This will leave a debt of $882,489 41 resting on personal security alone.

The following tables exhibit the indebtedness of the directors and other officers of the bank at the time of the assignment:

As the directors were, in some cases, indorsers of the notes of each other, and, in other cases, joint indorsers of the notes of those who were not directors, some deduction should be made from the amount for which they appear to have been responsible in the aggregate as sureties; though what that deduction should be, cannot easily be ascertained. When two of them were responsible for one debt, the payment of that debt by one of them would, of course, discharge the other.

The following table gives a statement of the indebtedness, at the time of the assignment, of those who became trustees:

For a further answer to some of the inquiries in interrogatory 5, see the reply to interrogatory 10.

VI. The amount of assets of said bank at the time of the assignment; how those assets have been disposed of and what amounts are now on hand?

Answer 1. According to the "Condensed Statement," prepared by Mr. Newton, the assets of the bank at the time of the assignment, were as follows:

Bills receivable, including notes discounted, bills of exchange, etc	$1,923,241 39
Real estate	34,394 92
Due by other banks	30,242 82
38 State bonds, five per cents	38,000 00
Specie and its equivalent	53,551 63
Bank notes on hand	80,228 52
	2,159,659 28

In this statement are included, under the head of "due by other banks," sundry sums due by branches of the Real Estate Bank to one another, and under the head of "bank notes on hand," are included the Real Estate Bank notes on hand at each office, its own issues excepted. This statement, therefore, does not give the nett assets of the bank.

In a letter addressed to Governor Drew, under date of October 30, 1848, Mr. Newton said, "when the deed of assignment was made on the 2d of April, 1842, the Real Estate Bank had, to meet demands against it,"

In specie	$53,551 62
Principal and interest of loans on notes and bills	2,000,192 00
Real estate valued then at	34,394 92
Amount due from other banks	30,242 82
Notes of Arkansas banks and loan to State	364,535 40
	2,482,916 76

In making an estimate of what was due on notes and bills, Mr. Newton allowed $76,950 61 for back interest, and thus swelled the total above the amount he gave in the "Condensed Statement."

The "Notes of Arkansas Banks and loans to the State," are here set down as $364,535 40, while in the "Condensed Statement," all these kinds of means make a total of only $118,228 50. In a note appended to the "Condensed Statement," but evidently prepared at a later day, the items are given which make up the total of $364,535 40, viz:

BANK NOTES, REAL ESTATE AND ALL OTHERS.

Little Rock	$73,249 29
Helena	35,069 87
Washington	32,280 02
Columbia	140,579 86
Van Buren	45,356 86
State bonds	38,000 00

In this account are embraced all the notes of the Real Estate Bank then on hand, except $108,170 of its own issues at the Washington office. But it is evident that "the cancelled notes" spoken of in the "Condensed Statement" as received from New Orleans, and amounting to $45,030 could not be used "to meet demands against the bank;" and using any of the notes of the Real Estate Bank then on hand for this purpose, would increase the demands against the bank in one way as much as it would diminish them in another.

This statement, therefore, fails to show the nett assets of the bank at the time of the assignment.

According to our "Compendious View," the assets were as follows:

Loans and discounts		$1,923,241 39
Arkansas State bonds, five per cents		38,000 00
Real estate		34,394 42
Due from banks in other States		430 18
Due from State Bank of Arkansas and branches,		3,245 12
Notes of banks in other States		491 00
Notes of State Bank of Arkansas and branches		20,410 00
Notes of other banks and of other offices of R. E. Bank		32,280 00
Certificates of deposit at New York, bearing five per cent. interest		13,948 96
Specie		47,602 67
Due by State treasurer		550 00
Chicot county warrants		,584 16
Cotton and Corn account		33,342 10
Other investments		1,154 31
	2,154,674 31
Add for bank interest on notes and bills discounted, as estimated by Mr. Newton	76,950 61
Total assets at the time of the assignment		2,231,624 92

This includes several items not embraced by Mr. Newton in either of his statements, as the corn and cotton account, and a certificate of deposit of a New York bank for $8,000; but still makes the total less than it is made in either his "Condensed Statement" or his letter to Gov. Drew; because we have excluded notes on hand of the principal bank and branches, when we could ascertain the amount. This we have been able to do at all the offices except that at Washington, the returns from which are so indefinite as not to enable us to distinguish between notes of other banks and notes of the Real Estate Bank on hand. The total is given as $32,280. Of this amount it is probable that $20,000 consisted of Real Estate Bank notes, which, if deducted from the sum given above, will make the nett assets of the bank $2,211,625 42.

These assets were disposed of as follows:

1st. A large amount of the notes and bills, included under the head of loans and discounts, were returned to the drawers and endorsers thereof, and Arkansas notes, specie at the rate of two or three for one, State bonds and coupons, and lands and negroes received in exchange.

2. Thirty-two of the five per cent. State bonds, amounting with the interest on them to $32,666 67, were exchanged by the cashier and secretary, on the 31st of May, 1843, for an equal amount of Real Estate Bank notes. The six that remained were turned over to the Receiver in April, 1855, and still remain on hand.

3. Of the real estate included in the deed of assignment, the banking houses and lots at Columbia and Helena have been sold.

The lots at Washington, and the banking house and lots at Little Rock are still the property of the bank.

4. The small amount due from banks in other States appears not to have been collected.

5. The amount due from the State Bank and its branches, was duly settled for by those institutions.

6. The notes of banks in other States proved to be unavailable funds.

7. The notes of the State Bank and its branches were exchanged with those institutions for an equal amount of Real Estate Bank notes, or otherwise used in the business of the trust.

8. The amount of two of the certificates of deposit of banks in New York, 5,948 56, and of the interest thereon, 424 69, was collected by Albert Pike, Sept. 31, 1843, and duly accounted for by him. The third certificate, which was for 8,000 00, was entrusted to John W. Edmunds, a lawyer of New York. He, on the 3d of June, 1843, drew the amount from the Phœnix Bank, together with the interest thereon, making a total of 8,476, and appropriated the same to his own use. Mr. Dudley Selden was employed to get it from him. From some papers in the banking heuse, it appears that Mr. Selden received from Mr. Edmunds the sum of 3,599 98 in money, and a note for 1,838 48. Of the residue of the sum of 8,476, we have no account. Of the amount collected from Edmunds, only 1,800 was paid over to the cashier and secretary. The balance was expended in paying Mr. Selden's fees, and in defraying other legal expenses in New York.

9. The sum due by the State treasurer was settled when the bank paid the bonus for the year 1841.

10. The corn and the cotton were sold, and the obligations received therefor tended to swell the amount of bills receivable.

11. The Chicot county warrants, (except a small amount used in paying taxes,) remain on hand.

12. The specie was used in paying the trustees and officers their salaries, and in defraying other expenses of the trust. A small part of it was employed in paying specie certificates of deposit; and another part in satisfying judgments against the bank. In the same way has gone what was subsequently collected from debtors to the bank, as is shown in the various accounts herewith presented.

13. Of the assets of the bank at the time of the assignment, the following remain on hand:

Bills and notes discounted	$925,784 08
Six Arkansas State bonds, 5 per cents	6,000 00
Chicot county warrants	4,400 00
Uncurrent money	484 12
Certificate of deposit in bank in N. Y. for 8,000 less 3,599 98 paid	4,400 02
Lots at Washington
Banking house and lots at Little Rock
	941,068 22

VII. A detailed statement of all good money received by the trustees, the officers of the bank, or the agents of the trustees or officers, since the 2d of April, 1842, or settled with the cashier and secretary; when received or settled, from what source or on what account.

Answer. The abstracts herewith submitted, marked No.'s 2, 3 and 4, contain all the information we are able to give in answer to this interrogatory. In not a few instances it has been found impossible to distinguish between good money receipts and good money settlements; and, in many instances, when receipts and settlements were entered on the books of the different offices, they were entered again on the trustee's books. Thus the nett amount of receipts and payments was less than would appear from a summing up of the accounts.

According to these statements, the good money receipts and settlements were as follows:

By Thomas W. Newton, as cashier and secretary..	$234,466 29
By Edwin Brittin, clerk at Washington office.....	30,056 13
By Simon T. Saunders, clerk at Washington office,	5,983 15
By Wm. Van Dalsen, clerk at Columbia office....	5,000 00
By Johnson Chapman, clerk at Columbia office....	4,955 16
By E. A. Scott, clerk at Van Buren office.....	8,668 83
By C. W. Adams, clerk at Helena office.....	17,886 66
By G. N. Peay, cashier and secretary.....	51,047 53
	358,063 75

The amounts received and settled for by the trustees and their agents, are so mixed up with their salary and other accounts that they cannot be seperated therefrom. The accounts current of the different trustees, herewith submitted and marked abstracts No.'s 16 to 24 inclusive, give all the information on this head the books and papers impart.

This account, as it includes "good money settlements," necessarily differs widely from the cash account of the cashier and secretary, as that embraces only "good money receipts and payments."

VIII. All good money paid out since that time, when paid, to whom paid, and on what account?

Answer. According to the books and papers, the whole amount of goood money paid out was—

By T. W. Newton, cashier and secretary.....	198,722 61
By Edwin Brittin, clerk at Washington office.....	30,279 32
By S. T. Saunders, clerk at Washington office....	5,858 31
By Wm. Van Dalsen, clerk at Columbia office....	5,000 00
By Johnson Chapman, clerk at Columbia office....	5,046 45
By E. A. Scott, clerk at Van Buren office.....	14,528 37
By C. W. Adams, clerk at Helena office.....	19,061 28
By G. N. Peay, cashier and secretary.....	43,837 70
	322,334 04

The particulars as to whom paid, when paid, and on what account, will, so far as they could be ascertained, be found by reference to the abstracts marked 16 to 24 inclusive.

It will be seen by a comparison of the accounts, that while the good money receipts of the clerk at Van Buren, amounted to only 8,668 83, his good money payments amounted to 14,528 37. This can be accounted for only on the supposition that many of the good money receipts at that office were not entered as such, but mixed up with receipts of Arkansas funds, in such a manner that it is now impossible to tell what proportion of the receipts was in the one medium, and what in the other.

IX. Detailed statement of bonds and coupons received by the trustees; whether State or Real Estate bonds; how many have been exchanged; and when; or again put into circulation, and sold or disposed of; and when, and by whom, and by what authority; and what number are now on-hand; and what amount cancelled and filed with the treasurer and interest thereon?

Answer 1. The abstract marked No. 1, herewith submitted, embraces the information called for in this interrogatory. From this it appears that, between April, 1844, when the receipt of bonds commenced, and the 25th of April, 1855, when the affairs of the trust passed into the hands of a receiver, there were taken in,

211	Real Estate Bank bonds and various coupons, amounting to	491,148 63
111	State Bank bonds and various coupons, amounting to	163,833 24
20	Bonds, not particularly described, and various coupons amounting to	28,142 91
342	bonds in all, amounting with various coupons to	683,124 78

2. The trustees do not appear to have exchanged any of the bonds received by them for other bonds. But 76 bonds in all, (some of them Real Estate Bank bonds, and others State Bank bonds,) amounting, with the coupons, to 92,700 09, were by the cashier and secretary, exchanged for Real Estate Bank notes, namely, 6,827 92 with Wm H. Gaines, and the residue, 85,872 17, with the State Bank of Arkansas.

3. Of the bonds that were received, twenty-four amounting with the interest on them at the time they were received, to 29,-896 51, were again put into circulation. If the interest be added that had accrued on some of the bonds between the time in which they were received and that in which they were passed away, the total will be 33,836 15.

Fifteen were sold at New Orleans, December 21, 1847, to pay off Russel's lien on lands of Rezin Bowie and Moses Burnett in Phillips county. Two were, May 19, 1851, paid for the purchase of Adams' land in Saline county, it being deemed expedient to purchase said land to secure a debt due to the bank. Wm. J.

Vason, Attorney at New Orleans, received two in compensation for professional services. And two were passed to Albert Pike, Attorney, two to Luther Chase, Trustee, and one to John Drennen, Trustee, in payment of their salaries.

The fifteen sold at New Orleans, and the two paid for Adams' land, were so disposed of by order of the Trustees. The others appear to have been applied to defray charges against the bank, without express directions from the Board.

4. When the assets of the bank were transferred to the Receiver, April 25, 1855, there were on hand—

59	State bonds and various coupons, amounting to	99,518 24
175	Real Estate Bank bonds and various coupons, amounting to	450,140 66
234		549,658 90

According to the books, there ought to have been on hand 242 bonds, amounting, with the coupons, to 560,528 18. There is thus a deficiency of eight bonds and various coupons, amounting to 10,869 28, which cannot be accounted for. This does not affect Mr. Newton's cash account, as he debited that with the 342 bonds received, and credited it with only the 100 exchanged for Real Estate Bank notes and used in defraying the expenses of the Trust.

Since the assets of the bank passed into the hands of the Receiver, bonds and coupons to the amount of 755,507 00 have been cancelled and filed with the Treasurer.

X. The indebtedness of each of the trustees of the bank or the officers thereof, and whether such indebtedness has been increased or diminished; and how secured, and on what accounts were their debts contracted, and in what manner, and with what funds discharged?

Answer—The accounts current of the trustees and officers of the bank, herewith submitted, contain the best information which the books and papers enable us to give in answer to these inquiries.

Carey A. Harris, the President of the principal bank, owed to it and to the branch at Helena, at the time of the assignment, the sum of $1,850. The whole of this debt was, in a few months, paid by himself or his representatives.

Thos. W. Newton, the Cashier of the principal bank, owed nothing to it at the time of the assignment. He afterwards incurred obligations to the amount of $80,693 79 by the purchase of the Byrd estate in Jefferson county, but relieved himself from those obligations by transferring the estate to Hyner & Sutton, who became in their turn debtors to the bank.

Wm. Van Dalsen, the Cashier at Columbia, owed nothing to the bank. Edwin Brittin, the Cashier at Washington, was equally free from debt to the bank.

The indebtedness of the other officers, is distinctly setforth in the reply to interrogatory 5: and whether such indebtedness was increased or diminished, how secured, and in what manner and in what funds discharged, is shown in the accounts current herewith submitted.

The most striking instance of the increase of debt due by a trustee to the bank, occurred in the case of Sandford C. Faulkner. He owed the bank, as principal, at the time of the assignment in 1842, a little less than $33,000. In various ways this debt was swelled by the 1st December, 1851, to about $180,000. It was discharged by his transferring to the trustees his real and personal estate in Chicot county.

When the assets of the bank were transferred to the receiver, April 25th, 1855, the trustees and officers owed the institution the following amounts:

Trustees.	Arkansas Funds.	Specie.
A. H. Davies	$23444 49
Silas Craig	23208 86
D. T. Witter	3552 40
John Drennen	18062 54	$3291 22
R. S. Gibson	1582 88
George Hill	4926 39
E. J. Smith	125 15
Luther Chase	3115 33
H. L. Biscoe		6835 23
Wm. F. Moore	9508 56
Total by trustees	87526 60	10126 45
Albert Pike, attorney	17753 79
Thomas W. Newton, cashier and secretary	382 98
Total due by trustees and officers	105663 37	10126 45

Per contra—The bank owed to Albert Pike 75 38, and to Luther Chase 810 68 in specie, and to Henry L. Biscoe 3,333 96 in Arkansas paper.

In addition to the above John Drennen owed 4,160 for lands purchased from the bank, but the title to which had not been secured to him.

Albert Pike had, by payments to the receiver, reduced the amount due by him, November, 22d, 1855, to 9,996 24.

Messrs. Walker, Walters, Roan, Preston and Faulkner all of whom had acted as trustees, owed nothing to the bank at the time the assets were transferred to the receiver.

XI. In settling or arranging debts due said bank or trustees, what means have been received, money, bonds, cupons, notes of the bank, slaves or personal property, or real estate; and if in good money at what rate; and what incumbrances were or are on such property?

Answer 1—All the above kind of means were received in payment of debts due to the bank; but owing to the manner in which the books were kept, it is impossible to tell the exact amount of each. Sometimes real and personal property were valued together as worth so much in the lump. Thus Mr. Faulkner transferred his lands in Chico county, with his slaves, his cattle, his farming utensils, and sixty bales of cotton, in full satisfaction of the debts he owed to the bank. The like mode of settlement was resorted to in other cases. In some other instances it has not been found practicable to distinguish between good money receipts and good money settlements: and in others where payments were made, it has not been found possible to tell what propotion was in specie and what in Arkansas funds.

As nearly as can be ascertained there were received by the trustees and their officers:

	Specie and its equivalent.	Arkansas funds.
In gold and silver, par drafts, etc	$100273 63
In State bonds and coupons		$683124 78
In Arkansas Bank notes		489378 67
In slaves	2435 00	47323 07
In real estate		566255 85
In real estate and negroes		4000 00
In Chicot county script		50 00
In swamp land script		2482 90
	102708 63	1792615 27
		102708 63
		1895323 90

2. The good money was received at various rates, at from two to three and nearly four to one of Arkansas, as set forth in the table marked No. 28.

3. For the real estate as much as $45 an acre was allowed in some instances as set forth in the abstract marked No. 7. The value at which the negroes were received is given in the abstract marked No 5.

4. The chief incumbrances were mortgages on land given previously to pledging them for subscriptions of stock in the bank, and previous to borrowing money from the bank. So far as they could be ascertained, they are described in the schedule of lands received for debts due to the bank.

XII. Have the trustees or officers of the bank assumed debts in bank for debtors, and received from them moneys, notes property, real or personal? How were the debts assumed secured, if secured at all, and what profit or loss accrued to such officers or trustees by the transaction, and what profit or loss to the bank?

Answer—In all cases where the trustees or attorney collected money from debtors to the bank and did not pay them over immediately to the cashier and secretary, they may be said to have assumed such debts, at least temporarily. How far this was done will be seen by inspecting the accounts current of the Attorney, and of the different trustees herewith submitted.

In the following instances there was a more formal assumption of the debts owing to the bank:

1. By Mr. Albert Pike, when he on the 1st of January, 1848, in consequence of an arrangement with Mr. Faulkner for the purchase of one half of his plantation in Chicot county, assumed 45,000 of the debt due by Faulkner to the bank. By way of security Mr. Pike gave a mortgage on his property in Little Rock. But the purchase was, as is stated, not completed, and in July, 1850, Mr. Faulkner re-assumed the debt of 45,000 together with the interest that had accrued on it from the 1st of January, 1848,

Mr. Pike also made a formal assumption of the following debts due to the bank:

By S. M. Rutherford	$ 200 00
By Roswell Beebe	4557 00
do do	579 00
By L. R. Lincon	471 48
By Wm. Cummins	283 90
By John P. Reeder and Wm. Brown	250 00
By Asa G. Baker	82 95
By Fleetwood Herndon	175 00
By Elias Rector	576 00
By Wm. H. Gaines	1500 00
By Abraham Block	746 76
By Ezekiel Nance	500 00
By Charles P. Bertand	340 98
	10263 07

These sums went into his general account, and may be said to have constituted the greater part of the claim of 18,914 18 which the bank had against Mr. Pike on the 20th of April, 1855.

2. Mr. S. C. Faulkner, on the 3d of April, 1843, assumed the note of N. Faulkner, amount ingwith the interests and costs there on, to 801 00.

On the 7th of April, 1846, he assumed of the debt due by R. M. Johnson the sum of 34,824 92, and gave his note for that amount, secured by an additional mortgage on his plantation in Chicot county.

On the 21st of June, 1850, he formally assumed a number of debts the amount of which he had at various times previously collected from different debtors of the bank. The total with the interest thereon was 37,824 93.

For all the debts thus assumed and for what he owed to the bank in other ways, he made satisfaction in December, 1851, by transferring to the trustees his real estate in Chicot county, together with the personal property thereon.

For the particulars see the notes to the account current of S. C. Faulkner.

3. Mr. H. L. Biscoe made the following assumpsits:

May 27, 1851,	of Wm. F. Carroll's note given in payment for Bowie and Burnett's land with interest 70 76	2270 76
May 27, 1851,	of T. B. Carroll's note passed to the credit of McPherson.	1677 78
Sept. 26, 1853,	part of proceeds of land sold to Amos Munson	1800 00
Jan. 11, 1854,	proceeds of sale of Sandford's land assumed for Wm. Moore.	1440 00
		7188 54

All these amounts were in specie. They entered into Mr. Biscoe's general account, and the balance due by him in specie, 6,994 93, may be said to be owing to these assumptions. On the same day there was a balance of 3,333 96 apparently due to him in Arkansas funds. If these be regarded as worth 60 cents on the dollar; the balance in specie due by him will be reduced to 4,994 36.

4. J. H. Walker appears to have, on the 1st of January, 1850, assumed a debt of 1,947 23, owing by Mr. Click. This and all other debts owing to the bank by J. H. Walker, have been paid.

5. Mr. Anthony H. Davies appears to have on the 10th of November, 1845, assumed several notes and bills of A. L. Shotwell, amounting with the interest upon them to 6,463 43. This sum constitutes part of the balance of 23,444 49 due by him April 16th, 1855.

6. Mr. Silas Craig appears to have assumed the following debts:

For B. L. Miles	$4120 96
For J. S. Peak	6680 60
For Wilford Garner	111 75
For Reuben Smith	956 00
	11869 31

These entered into Mr. Craig's general account. The balance due by his estate to the bank, is, as allowed by the Probate Court of Chicot county, 28,208 86.

7. On the 13th of November, 1858, Daniel T. Witter assumed 154 80 on account of S. C. Wheat. This amount entered into Mr. Witter's general account and as such formed part of the balance of 3,552 40 due by him April 16th, 1855.

8. Mr. Thomas W. Newton having, on the 1st of January, 1848, purchased R. C. Byrd's plantation in Jefferson county, assumed on this account the sum of 65,075 64 due by Byrd to the bank. For this he gave his note, secured by a mortgage on the estate.

He subsequently sold the place to Hyner & Sutton, and the account was adjusted January 6th, 1851, by taking Hyner & Sutton's note for 70,000, by passing to Mr. Newton's credit 3,117 due to him in specie, as the equivalent at, 30 cents in the dollar, of 10,390, in Arkansas money, and by taking from him a new note for the balance, 303,79.

When the settlement was made the debt had swelled by increments of interest, to 80,693,79.

9. On the 26th of May, 1843, Lambert Reardon assumed part of a debt due by James DeBaun, amounting with the interest thereon to 2,272 18. Some payments on this account were made in the month of June following, and what remained due on the 23d of February, 1844, was then paid.

10. Mr. Drennen made the following assumptions:

June 31st, 1844,	note of J. L. Dawson, with interest from 1st of April, 1840,	$6900 00
May 6th, 1852,	Benjamin Hughes' stock debt with interest from April 25th, 1846,	32332 00

These sums, amounting to 39,232, entered into Mr. Drennen's general account. According to the books there was due by him, April 16th, 1855, in specie 3,291 23 and 18,062 54 in Arkansas funds, besides 4,160 in Arkansas funds for land sold to him by the bank, but the title to which has not yet been perfected.

11. On the 27th of April, 1844, George Hill assumed the note of Tilghman Patterson for 300. This entered into his general account. The balance due by him, April 16th, 1855, was 4,-926 39.

12. Enoch J. Smith assumed H. Y. Smith's note for 324 79. All that E. J. Smith owed the bank on the 16th of April, 1855, was 125 51.

XIII. Have the trustees and officers severally accounted for all assets and moneys that came to their hands, or for rents and profits of the bank property; and if not, who is deficient, and in what amount, and at what time?

Answer—We have no reson to believe that the trustees and officers failed to report to the cashier and secretary for such money and other assets as came into their hands. But the whole amount of rents received by them was very small. The following embrace all that we have as yet found any notice of on the books,

1843, Dec. 21,	At Helena office, received from J. T. Curl for rent of place, the proceeds of corn	$ 60 00
1846, Sept. 19,	Received from R. Beebe for rent of Byrd's place 239 50 in good funds

	for which Beebe received a credit in Arkansas money of	$ 579 00
1847, April 16,	At Helena office, received for rent of Shell place,	125 00
1849, May 3,	Received from Moore & Curl in Arkansas money for rent of J. T. Curl's place to January 1st, 1849	140 00
1850, July 8,	At the Van Buren office John Drennen is debted for rent of place after repairs,	50 00
1852, Dec. 30,	At Washington office received from L. Johnson, for rent of John Shook's farm 200 bushels of corn, and sold the same at 20 cents a bushel	40 00
1853, July 4,	Received in good money of Harris Flanagan for the rent of the Buckner land in Clark county for the year 1852,	151 50
1853, Oct. 7,	At Washington received for rent of McDonald's place,	16 20
1855, Dec. 22,	Received at Washington for rent of McDonald farm in 1852,	35 40
1854, May 15,	Received for rent of real estate,	22 50
1851, Feb. 14,	Received at Washington office from Joseph Garret for rent of McDonald land,	44 00
		$1263 60

It does not appear that one dollar was ever received for the hire of negroes that came into the possession of the trustees and were retained by them sometimes for months if not for years. But there are charges for the traveling expenses of some of these negroes, and for medical attendance on others.

XIV. A detailed statement of Lands taken for debts, and from whom, and to discharge what amount. And lands purchased by the trustees or officers, and of whom, when, and for what amount; and where they lie; and whether improved or unimproved, and whether the persons from whom they were taken, were solvent or insolvent? Set forth the numbers and such other particulars as will afford a full understanding thereof.

Answer 1. In the accompanying abstracts, marked No. 6, 7, and 8, will be found all the information we have been able to gather from the books and papers in the banking house respecting lands purchased by the trustees, or received by them in payment of debts. But, to answer many parts of this interrogatory in a satisfactory manner, it would be necessary to institute investigations in the different counties in which the lands are situated. In but few instances do the records in the banking house show whether the lands are improved or unimproved, or, if improved, to what extent. Neither do the records show who are the present occupants of the land, a few cases only excepted.

Whether the persons from whom the lands were taken, were solvent or insolvent, must, in many cases, be matter of opinion. Not a few of them have always had the reputation of being wealthy men; but, without a more particular acquaintance with their personal affairs than we possess, it is impossible to say if their wealth was of a solid character.

In a letter in the hand writing of Albert Pike, dated July 10, 1851, the following passage occurs:

"No lands will hereafter be taken from solvent men in payment of debts: nor in any but desperate cases; and by unanimous vote of the board."

This would seem to imply, that, before that time, lands had been taken from solvent men, and in other than desperate cases.

2. In payment of debts due to the bank, the trustees received 15,098 acres of stock land, which had been valued when pledged for stock at 198,708 dollars. These they received as full satisfaction of debts owing to the bank, amounting in all to 163,646 dollars.

Of other lands, they received 10,839 acres, which were regarded at full satisfaction for debts of the amount of 161,869 dollars.

The whole number of acres received by the trustees in payment, was 25,847, and they were regarded as the equivalent of 325,515 dollars of debt due to the bank.

3. By foreclosoure of stock mortgages the trustees obtained a title to 49,989 acres of land, which had been valued at 856,335 dollars, when pledged for stock. For these they bid 80,235 dollars. But as 2,914 acres of these lands, the stock valuation of which was 38,494 dollars, had previously been received in payment of debts, the nett amount of acres acquired in this way was 47,075, which had been valued when pledged for stock at 817,841 dollars.

4. In addition to the above, the trustees, in a settlement with Mr. Faulkner, allowed him 177,129 dollars, for 626 acres of stock land, 160 acres of other land, and the personal property on his lands.

5. At sales under execution, and foreclosure of mortgages, (other than stock mortgages,) they bought 5,482 acres of stock land, which had been valued, when pledged for stock, at 54,456 dollars. For these they paid 5,299 dollars.

They bought, in addition, at such sales, 13,697 acres of other land, for which they paid 14,093 dollars.

The whole number of acres of land bought in this way, was 19,179, and the price paid for them was 19,392 dollars.

6. The whole number of acres of land acquired in all these ways, was 92,888, and the whole price paid and allowed for them, for 21 town lots, and for the personal property on the Faulkner plantation, was 602,273 dollars.

7. Exclusive of the Faulkner lands, the trustees sold 6,942 acres acres of stock land which had been valued when pledged for stock at upwards of 135,000 dollars. The price they had given and allowed for these lands, was upwards of 39,000 dollars; and they sold them for 4,249 dollars in specie, and 61,413 dollars in Arkansas funds; together 65,661 dollars.

8. For 2,109 acres of other lands sold by the trustees, and for one town lot, they had paid and allowed 9,919 dollars. They sold the same and five other town lots for 4,250 dollars in specie, and 16,418 dollars in Arkansas funds; together 20,668 dollars.

9. The stock lands of Mr. Faulkner, (626 acres) were, when pledged for stock, valued at 37,430 dollars. These, and 369 acres of other lands were sold together for 41,824 dollars.

10. There remain on hand 60,623 acres of stock land, which, when they were pledged for stock, were valued at 952,268 dollars.

There also remain on hand 22,587 acres of other land, and nineteen town lots for which the trustees paid and allowed 166,043 dollars.

According to this account, 83,211 acres of land are now the property of the bank, and the 7,568 acres of stock land which have been sold, still remain subject to the stock mortgages.

XV. Whether any of the trustees or officers or which of them have speculated with the funds of the bank; and if so, in what way, and with what profit or loss to the bank?

Answer—On the 25th of May, 1842, the day on which the assets at Helena were transferred to the trustees, but before the transfer was completed, Messrs. Wm. F. Moore and Henry L. Biscoe, two of the directors at that office, and also two of the newly appointed trustees, offered 6,561 36, payable in Arkansas paper, for the 121 bales of cotton then in the yard of the Helena banking house, and 50 cents a bushel for all the merchantable corn then in store, (about 1600 bushels,) together with the charges thereon; the said cotton and corn to be paid for in 60 days, with interest from date at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum.

To this their co-directors assented. The corn and the cotton passed into the hands of Messrs. Moore and Biscoe; but no note appears then to have been given, and no part of the purchase money was paid at the end of the sixty days as agreed upon.

More than ten months after the purchase, the sum of 4,506 93 was paid on account, leaving 2,054 43 due for the cotton, and 820 25 for the corn; together 2,874 68, without counting interest

Notes were subsequently given for the balance, but they remained unpaid for years.

Both the corn and the cotton were included in the assignment made at Little Rock, April 2, 1842; but, through the arrangement made at Helena, on the 26th of May of that year, they never passed into the hands of the trustees.

As both the corn and the cotton were cash articles, a different disposition of them might have prevented some of those heavy sacrifices the bank was afterwards compelled to make, through the sale of Arkansas bonds and bank notes, in order to raise specie to defray the expenses of the trust; and also have prevented that increase in the outstanding obligations of the bank which was made by paying the officers and trustees their compensation in Arkansas funds at the rate of two or three dollars in paper for one in specie.

In some instances, some of the trustees retained in their own hands different amounts of money they had collected from debtors of the bank; and, in others, as when specie was put into their hands for special objects, they did not promptly pay it over. Such funds, it must be presumed, they employed in their own business. But the records contain no entries from which it can be inferred that they, in any other way, speculated in the funds of the bank.

XVI. What compensation did the trustees and officers receive per annum or otherwise, and in what kind of funds, and did they draw it out whilst indebted to the bank?

Answer—The deed of assignment provides that the members of the committees at the different offices, "shall act without compensation, except when actually engaged in the performance of the trust aforesaid, when each shall receive as his compensation the sum of three dollars per day for every day during which he shall be engaged; Provided, however, that no member of said committee at Little Rock shall be entitled to charge for more than one hundred and eighty days in any one year; and that no member of any other committee shall be entitled to charge for more than seventy-five days in one year."

The same deed provides that "the Executive Board shall receive in full pay, for their services, the same compensation as is now allowed to the members of the central board, and such other traveling expenses as may be necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties." The compensation of the central board was "four dollars per day for their services and attendance as members of the central board, and the sum of three dollars for each twenty miles in traveling to and from Little Rock."

The deed further provides that the residuary trustees shall receive the same compensation as the members of the executive board.

In the accounts of the executive board, as stated on the books, no distinction is made between their traveling expenses, and their per diem compensation, but the whole sum is given in gross.

The committees at the offices, and the residuary trustees, did not make distinct charges for each day they were engaged in the business of the bank, or for the number of miles they traveled; but, instead thereof, took to themselves salaries, the former at 225 dollars, the latter at 750 dollars a year.

The compensation that, under these arrangements, the trustees severally received, was, as well as can can be ascertained, as follows:

	As members of General Board.	As members of Executive Board.	As members of Commit's at Branches.	As Residu'ry Trustees.	Total.

The above is the specie value that was allowed to the trustees, and all the payments were made to them in specie, except the following:

To H. L. Biscoe, $1405 in Arkansas money, regarded as equal to 562 04 in specie.

To S. C. Faulkner 315, in Arkansas money, regarded as equal to 126, in specie. Faulkner also received a credit of 5,811 17 in Arkansas money, on his debts due to the bank, as the equivalent of 3,188 50 in specie due to him on his salary account.

To John Drennen, $4,258,97 was paid in Arkansas, and regarded as the equivalent of $1,366 16 in specie. A bond, with the coupons attached, amounting to $1,480 was paid to him as the equivalent of $440 in specie. And a credit of $4,108 72 in Arkansas, was allowed him on his debts due to the bank, as the equivalent of $2,255 41 due to him in specie on his salary account.

To Ebenezer Walters, on account of $804 49 due to him in specie, a credit was allowed in Arkansas of $3,608 99.

By these manipulations, the bank increased its outstanding obligations in the sum of $12,245 25.

With the exceptions above noted, the trustees continued, while indebted to the bank, to draw their salaries in specie.

Col. Drennen, while receiving pay as trustee, was allowed salary as president of the branch at Van Buren, at the rate of $750 a year, up to the 9th of September, 1842, when the assets of that office were transferred to the trustees.

The other officers of the bank, received, as well as can be ascertained, the following sums as compensation for their services.

	Date of services.	Per year.	Time.	Total.

At the Columbia office, the books were kept in such form, (various expenditures being lumped in one entry,) that the amounts paid to the clerk there, are, to some extent, necessarily conjectural.

The special fee of $143 12, for which a credit was allowed Albert Pike, on the 30th of Oct., 1847, was for collecting, in September, 1846, the sum of $1,431 29, from Whitfield & Nott, to whom had been sold some cotton belonging to the bank.

This table gives the specie value allowed to the officers of the bank for their services, and they all drew the whole amount in specie set against their names, except the following:

T. W. Newton, for $3,117 in specie due to him on salary account, received a credit for $10,390 in Arkansas, and thereby discharged debts of that amount due by him to the bank. On another occasion, $850 due to him on salary account, ware applied to the payment of a note payable in specie, given for certain purchases made by him at the sale of the Faulkner property.

Johson Chapman, for $1,312 50 due to him on salary account, received a credit for $3,500, and thereby discharged that amount of debt due by him to the bank.

On the 16th November, 1846, Charles W. Adams received the sum of $3,500 in Arkansas funds, equal at 36 cents in the dollar to $1260 in specie, for amount due to him as attorney for the trustees, for the business of the Helena office, from the spring term of the Crittenden county court, 1844, to October term of said court, 1846, at $500 dollars in par funds per annum.

With these exceptions, the officers, while indebted to the bank, drew from it their salaries in specie. But it is proper to observe that Pike, Newton and Chapman, were the only ones among them that were largely indebted to the bank, and that Brittin and Van Dalsen never owed anything.

By the payments above mentioned in Arkansas funds, and by the credits granted on the books in these funds, the loss to the bank was $11,700 50.

XVII. What have been the annual expenses of said bank, salaries, contingent expenses and all, per annum, since the deed of assignment?

Answer—As well as can be gathered from a particular examination of the books and papers, the expenses may be classed as follows:

	In specie.	In Arkansas paper.
Legal expenses, including fees to clerk of court, etc	$26218 33	$3400 19
Taxes	5594 08	518 98
Printing	1432 14	2603 29
Printing and taxes		6129 61
Postage	519 20
Stationery	173 38	35 00
Fuel and lights	191 41
Rent of banking houses	2754 06
Repairs of do do	778 96
Traveling expenses	3619 62
Freight on specie, etc	271 57
Copying and clerking	1356 66	1776 67
Expenses on account of negroes	1357 95
do do cotton	92 50
Purchase of lands	1359 06
Redemption of lands	2671 61
Various charges on land	581 50
Miscellaneous	3210 33
Total of contingent expenses	$52182 36	$14463 74
do compensation of trustees	41420 43	20987 85
do do officers	68762 21	17390 00
	$162,366 00	$52.841 59

In the table showing the compensation received by the different trustees and officers, the specie value received by each is given, and it is stated in the note how much was paid to them in paper.

In this compend what amount was paid to the trustees and officers in specie, and what amount in paper is distinctly stated.

According to the accounts thus rendered, the expenses from April 2, 1842, to April 16th, 1855, a period of thirteen years and fourteen days, were on the average $12,489 69 in specie, and $4,064 73 in paper: together $16,554 42, for each year.

XVIII. What amount of debts or demands due said bank have not been put in suit or collected, and what amount has been lost by neglect or statute of limitations or lapse of time, or will be lost probably on account of it? What is the amount of good debts now due the bank, and what the amount of bad debts?

Answer 1. The amount of the principal of debts that had not been collected by the Trustees, when the affairs of the bank were turned over to the receiver in chancery, was $992,442 13 in Arkansas; and $63,082 48 in specie; together $1,055,526,61. The records of the bank do not show what part of the amount had been put in suit.

Since Mr. Peay was made receiver, he has placed in the hands of attorneys, for collection, all the notes and bills due to the bank and remaining unpaid.

2. The amount lost by neglect or statute of limitation is according to Abstract No. 27, herewith submitted, $32,912 28. The amount appears very small on two millions of debts in fourteen years, but this is the whole amount which the books and papers in the banking house have enabled us to discover. This does not include the losses that were sustained, when judgments were obtained in favor of the bank, and nothing was made out of them. In addition to the above, the sum of $5,500 "par funds" for negroes sold by the Trustees to Wm. D. Ferguson, has been lost to the bank, by their neglect, they having failed to bring an action against Ferguson, for the slaves or their value in proper time. See Abstract No. 5 for a history of this transaction.

3. The amount of good debts due the bank, Oct. 1st, 1856, is as nearly as can be calclated $495,277 26: or, including interest, $545,693 11.

The amount classed as doubtful is $99,630 23; and as worthless $420,876 59: together, $520,506 82 without including interest.

XIX. How many tracts of land purchased by or mortgaged to the bank, have been sold for taxes, and thus lost to the bank?

Answer—The multiplicity and complexity of the various accounts we have had to examine, has left us but little time for the subject of this interrogatory. To answer it fully it would be necessary to institute investigations in the different counties, a duty which, we understand, the receiver means to undertake. In a supplementary report, we propose to give, as soon as it can be prepared, the best answer to this question which the books and papers in the banking house and in the public offices at Little Rock, will enable us to make.

XX. How often did the Trustees meet per annum, and when, and who were present, and who was the chief manager or adviser to the acts of the Trustees?

Answer. The General Board of Trustees held their first meeting in November, 1842. It commenced on the 7th of that month and closed on the 18th. There were present, Messrs. Roane, Hill, Smith, Faulkner, Moore, Preston, Drennen, Clarke, Biscoe, Craig and Davies. Their second meeting, (which was called specially for the election of Residuary Trustees,) was held on the 2d of April, 1844, and lasted only one day. There were present, Messrs. Roane, Hill, Faulkner, Drennen, Clarke, Biscoe, Craig, Reardon, Walters and Walker.

The Executive Board held four meetings in 1842, two in 1843, and one in 1844. Some of the members assembled in April and December, 1843; but not enough to form a quorum.

The Residuary Trustees held four meetings in 1844, two in 1845, two in 1846, two in 1847, one in 1848, one in 1849, three in 1850, four in 1851, two in 1852, three in 1853, and three in 1854. On some other occasions, some of the Residuary Trustees assembled; but not enough to form a quorum.

Some of these meetings lasted four, five, eleven or twelve days. Others for only one day.

Besides the above, sundry meetings were held by the Committees of the Trustees at the different offices.

The following table shows the number of days each trustee was present at the different meetings:

	As member of General Board.	As member of Executive Board.	As residuary Trustee.	As one of committee at Little Rock.	As one of Committee at Helena.	As one of Committee at Van Buren.	As one of Committee at Columbia.	As one of Committee at Washington.	Total of days' service

This table gives the number of days as well when no quorums were formed, as when quorums were formed; but does not embrace the time occupied by the Trustees in attending to matters out of the bank. Of this last branch of service, no record was kept.

If the provisions of the deed of assignment had been strictly construed, and the Trustees regarded as entitled to compensation, only when they met to do business, they would have received,

For 264 days services as members of committees at offices, at $3 a day	$792 00
For 108 days services as members of the general board, at $3 a day	324 00
For 101 days services as members of the executive board, at $4 a day	404 00
For 372 days services as residuary trustees at $4 a day	1,488 00
	$3,008 00

Besides a just allowance for travelling expenses.

It does not appear from the records who, among the trustees, was the chief manager and adviser. In but few instances are the names given of those who moved or seconded the resolutions and orders that were adopted. Mr. Albert Pike says, in his answer to the bill in chancery, "that the trustees always reposed great confidence in him, and when the pressure of circumstances, and public opinion would allow, almost always followed his advice, when given in his line of duty; and that, when his advice was asked, he always gave it frankly and honestly, to the best of his judgment, and endeavored at the same time not to interfere in matters with which he had no concern."

XXI. A full statement as to the manner in which the trust has been executed, and all violations thereof; and a full investigation into the affairs of said bank since the deed of assignment, and its present condition.

Answer 1. In schedule "A" attached to the deed of assignment, are enumerated.

"All the cotton belonging to said bank being about 793 bales."

We have been able to find traces of only 266 bales in the hands of Ward, Moffit & Co., at New Orleans? and of 123 bales on the lot belonging to the bank at Helena, besides a credit to the cotton account at the Washington office on the 31st of March, 1842, of $8,486 36. This would be the equivalent of 161 bales if valued at the prices allowed at Helena: and would make a total of 550 bales, or 242 less than is mentioned in the schedule attached to the deed of assignment:

The probability is that the bank had then less cotton on hand than the assignees supposed. In like manner they over estimated the specie on hand, setting it down as $63,000, when it was less than $48,000.

2. The professed object of the assignment was that the creditors of the bank "should be secured, paid, and indemnified, and its circulation called in, and at the same time its debtors guarded against oppression and ruin, and enabled to discharge the debts due by them to the institution."

The chief creditors of the bank were the holders of its notes, and the owners of the bonds. Little regard was paid to their interests. On the contrary, the value of the notes in circulation was reduced, by the trustees paying out others in defraying the expenses of the trust, as whatever increased the mass of notes in circulation, diminished their selling rate in the market. The value of both notes and bonds, was, moreover, diminished by the trustees receiving specie in payment of debts at the rate of one dollar in specie for two or three of Arkansas paper. If they had pursued a different policy, a new demand would have sprung up for the notes of the bank and for the bonds and coupons. They would not then have sunk so low in the market as they did, for there would have been an increased demand for them as a means of paying debts due to the bank.

This usage did not begin till the trustees and officers having nearly exhausted the specie they had on hand at the time of the assignment, wanted more for the payment of their own salaries.

3. It was made the express duty of the trustees that they should "diligently endeavor to call in and redeem the circulation or notes payable of said bank as speedily as may be possible." And it was further provided in the deed of assignment that all the notes of the Real Estate Bank on hand at the different offices, should forthwith be delivered to the trustees, and be by them burned, and that all the circulating notes of the Bank thereof be collected should be burned "whenever and as often as the sum of $25,000 should be on hand."

These conditions were not complied with. The redemption of the circulation of the bank was postponed to other objects, and no burning took place till the 14th of November, and then only a part of the notes on hand, namely $190,220, were committed to the flames. Thus matters remained till the 3d of April, 1844, when notes to the amount of $144,510 were destroyed by fire, still leaving on hand notes to a large amount. Then there was an interval of six years, in which this provision of the deed of trust was utterly disregarded. Rut a general conflagration took place on the 16th of November, 1852, in which notes to the amount of $400,000 were consumed.

4. It was provided in the deed of assignment, that, the common debtors to the bank should be allowed eight years in which to pay what they owed, they paying in each year one eighth part of the principal and the interest in advance. And that those who owed on stock credits, should pay as provided for in the charter, that is, the interest annually in advance, and five per cent of the principal in each year.

These conditions were but little regarded, if regarded at all, by either the debtors to the bank or the trustees.

The trustees did not, however, herein violate the letter of the deed, for it was immediately afterwards provided that they might, "at their discretion, compound any debt or debts due or owing" to the bank, and might "enter into, sign and execute, seal and deliver, any bargain or deed of composition, compromise or assignment, of or with any person who shall become or be insolvent, or unable to make punctual payment."

This was, under the circumstances of those times, granting almost unlimited discretion to the trustees in regard to the collection of debts.

In answer to an inquiry by Governor Drew, Mr. Newton, the Cashier and Secretary said, under date of Oct. 16, 1844.

"The total amount paid in since the assignment is about $274,000." As this embraced a period of five years and a half, the collections were equal to $60,000 per annum; and as they were in Arkansas money, then worth no more than fify cents on the dollar, the yearly payments by all the debtors of the bank were equal only to $30,000 in the legal coin of the United States. This was on a debt the principal of which was about two millions, and the yearly interest of which at 8 per cent was, $160,000.

In reply to another enquiry by Governor Drew, Mr. Newton said:

"The only reasons I can give in answer to this question for the "seeming" tardiness of the stockholders, are drawn from the following considerations and suppositions, the most of which are equally applicable to the other debtors to the bank.

1st. "In most instances, I presume, it arises from inability: with some there may be indisposition to pay. The great floods in '44 and '45, in all our rivers, destroyed the growing crops of the large stockholders, and many other debtors to the bank, and rendered it impossible for them to meet the demands upon them, and operated so injuriously on all the citizens of the State, as to require several years of prosperity to wipe out entirely the effects of the general calamity. Five more years at least will be required for the State to recover from the disasters spoken of.

2d. "The money borrowed from our banks, was, to a great extent, expended in the payment of prior debts out of the State; in the purchase of additional negroes, and in the clearing up and cultivation of our land. When notes fell due, new loans were needed to make payments, as some time must necessarily elapse before the increased expenditure would be reimbursed by the products of the soil.

3d. "When the banks were discounting freely, credit was so cheap that many were induced to borrow more largely than prudence would ordinarily dictate, and they have not yet recovered from this imprudence.

4th. "The stock of some was secured by land at an exorbitant valuation, who borrowed, no doubt intending in good faith to pay; but self interest now prompts them to surrender their lands in discharge of their debts. Others mortgaged estates, the value of which has increased by the clearing up and bringing more land into cultivation, who become alarmed when they found the bank in failing circumstances, lest their estates might be lost in making up the deficiency of the other class, in the final payment of the bonds, and, seeing the rapid decline in the value of Arkansas money, they supposed very naturally that when the bonds were thrown into the market for sale, a still further decline would take place, and enable them to pay on easier terms. In waiting thus, however, they seem to forget that the interest "like an eating moth," is still accumulating on their debt, and keeping pace with the decline in the value of the bonds.

5th. "The excitement which grew out of the assignment in 1842, of the effects of the bank to the trustees, and the successful efforts which were made in many instances to frustrate their attempts to make collections, with the difficulty experienced in parts of the State in getting judgments where the bank was a party, led many to imagine that they might escape without paying anything. This delusion has happily passed away with the excitement which gave rise to it; and those heretofore the most "tardy" in meeting the regular calls of the bank, are now making arrangements to pay largely out of their growing crops of cotton. The strange feeling which seems to have existed in the minds of a great many of the debtors to all the banks in the State, that, by some management or other, they would be entirely released from their indebtedness without an effort to pay, it is to be hoped, was but a momentary impulse growing out of the pecuniary embarassments of the times, and that, as abundant crops shall crown their labors, and prosperity once more smile upon them, they will remember that their bank liabilities are not only as obligatory upon them, but are as sacred debts as any other promises to pay."

About two years afterwards Governor Drew made further inquiries, to which the Cashier and Secretary, replied as follows:

"It was obvious in the beginning that only by one course could the means of the bank ever be realised so as to take up its circulation and redeem the bonds, and that was to pursue the policy of securing the debts so that they would ultimately be good, rather than to push collections by legal process when it could be avoided. Such was the distressed condition of the country, and the depreciation of all kinds of property that to sue on a debt and attempt to collect it by execution, could result only in sacrificing the debtor's, property, and collecting nothing for the institution. Property worth thousands was every day seen to sell under the hammer for a few dollars, and the larger the creditor, the more likely was he to be bankrupt by paying costs and expenses of litigation. Had the trustees proceeded to enforce collections stringently, a large portion of the community would have been inevitably ruined, and an incalculable amount of indebtedness totally lost, which, by prudence, caution and indulgence has been saved.

"The condition of our laws, the misguided favor extended by them to debtors, the uncertainty of what legal decision would be, all combined to indicate to the trustees, the policy which they ought to pursue, and they have followed out that policy steadily and with the happiest results.

"Many circumstances, however, have combined to thwart and embarass them in the discharge of their duties; the refusal of the stockholders at Washington to deliver over the property there till some of the debts were barred by limitation; the refusal of the legislature to authorise suit to be brought by the trustees at Little Rock, or the trustees to sue in their aggregate name, without regard to any change in the number of individual trustees: the change in the delivery bond law by which it was rendered so uncertain as to cause unexampled delay, and the total loss of many debts: the taking away of the charter by the State, by which the trustees were precluded from carrying on suits commenced in the name of the bank, or enforcing judgments obtained by her: thus compelling them to revive and carry on the one and to enforce the other by a multitude of suits in chancery——all threw difficulties in the way of the trustees, with but few, and these the least important of which, has the State Bank had to struggle.

"The decision of the Supreme Court that the mortgages of stockholders did not secure the money borrowed on stock credits, has lost to the creditors of the bank some fifty thousand dollars. This question is again before the court, and hopes are entertained that it will be decided differently and thereby prevent much heavier losses."

The account Mr. Newton gave of the condition of things in Arkansas was a gloomy one: but it should never be forgotten that it was by the operation of the banks themselves that this gloomy state of things was produced. Mr. John Wilson, the first President of the Real Estate Bank, said, on the 30th of Nov., 1837, in a report to the General Assembly, "in our own State there is not at present any embarrassment." This was one year before the Real Estate Bank commenced operations. It was in operation less than four years before it (in conjunction with the State Bank,) produced all the evils so graphically described by its Cashier and Secretary.

It is true, that, about the time the trustees got possession of the assets at Little Rock, affairs were very gloomy, not only in Arkansas but in all the United States, and from one and the same cause, namely the operations of the banking system. In September. 1842, there was a tremendous convulsion of the banks in New Orleans, the effects of which were felt throughout the Union. But in May, 1843, things began to mend, and they have been gradually improving ever since. Arkansas being the last State to embark in the banking business, would naturally be the latest in recovering from its ill effects. There were sufficient causes why the trustees should not be too rigorous at the beginning in enforcing the payment of debts. But there is reason in all things. They ought to have collected at least enough to have paid the expenses of the trust. That they did not do so, was owing to the peculiar constitution of the board. They, and their particular friends were among the greatest debtors to the bank. They paid nothing, or next to nothing, of what they themselves owed to the bank, and under these circumstances it was with ill grace that they could enforce payment on others.

The assignment was one of debtors to the bank, to themselves, for their own benefit, and it was managed, as, under such circumstances, might rationally have been expected.

The result would have been different if the State and the bondholders had been faithfully represented in the board. Enough might then have been collected not only to pay the expenses of the trust, but to pay the coupons as they fell due.

All of which were transferred by Mr. Peay to the Receiver appointed by the Chancery Court of Pulaski county, on the 25th of April, 1855.

NOTES.—1st. In these tables the bonds are arranged according to the order in which they appear on the "Journal" of the Little Rock office.

2d. In the amount of bonds outstanding at the time of the assignment, are not included, those that were hypothecated to the "North American Trust and Banking Company."

3d. The interest on the 2d of April, 1842, is stated to have been $68,850; this was the amount of interest that had accrued up to that date. On the 2d of April, 1842, the only interest that was actually due, was $45,900, being the half year's interest that was payable on the 1st of January, 1842. The residue of the interest that had accrued, $22,950, was not demandable, before the 1st of July, 1842.

4th. The foregoing statement exhibits a deficiency of eight bonds, amounting—principal and interest accrued when taken,—to $10,868 28. The statement is accurately made out from the books and papers of the trustees, and the conclusion arrived at cannot be accounted for. The deficiency makes no difference in Mr. Newton's "cash account," he having charged himself with all the bonds contained in these tables, said to have been received by him, as appears from the books of the bank.

5th. It is said that on the 12th of September, 1849, a Real Estate Bank bond, amounting with interest, to $1,492, was received from J. M. Ross, Financial Receiver of the State Bank, for H. A. Blevins. Examination into particulars has shown that of this amount only $882, was passed to the credit of Blevins, and that the residue, $610, was paid to the Financial Receiver, in State Bank notes. This appears to be one among the few instances in which a bond or part of a bond was obtained in any other way than by receiving it in payment of debts due to the bank.

6th. As the journal does not, in all instances, distinguish between State Bank and Real Estate Bank bonds, a part of those received are, from necessity classed together. Where the attempt has been made to classify the bonds, it is not certain that the classification is always correct.

STATE ACCOUNTANT'S OFFICE, REAL ESTATE BANK,
Little Rock, June, 27, 1856.

The foregoing statements of the number and amount of Real Estate Bank, and State Bank bonds, and coupons received by the trustees of the Real Estate Bank of the State of Arkansas, their officers and agents, and the amount disposed of by them, have been prepared from the books and papers in the banking house, or office of said trustees, in Little Rock, after a careful, thorough, and impartial inspection of said books and papers.

WM. M. GOUGE,
WM. R. MILLER,
Accountants,
under Act of 15th January, 1855.

NOTE.—From the record, the whole number of negroes that came under the control of the bank was only 66.

A considerable time elapsed between the days when the negroes were received by the agents of the bank and the days when they were sold: but in no one instance does their hire appear to have been accounted for. In case of the Faulkner negroes the trustees raised a crop upon the plantation taken from Mr. Faulkner, between the time of purchase and time of sale of said negroes. Some expenses were incurred on account of these negroes, as appears from the Faulkner papess, and from entries in Mr. Newton's "debit and credit statement."

In the Faulkner papers an account is given of 37 negroes: but it does not appear what became of one of them, Bill, aged 13.

The 35 negroes of Faulkner brought $19,610. Eighteen others, received from different persons, brought $10,933 50. In all, $30,543 50. Four of the negroes died, namely, one the name of which is not given, but which had belonged to E. Cross. Riley, who had belonged to George Conway; Granville, who had belonged to S. C. Faulkner; and Judy, who had belonged to J. S. McKeil.

One, who had belonged to Fleetwood Herndon, killed a negro of Col. Stuart's, and was removed out of the State to escape the penalty of the law; and was sold by James H. Walker, one of the Trustees, for the sum of one thousand dollars.

One was returned to his former owner, J. S. McKeil, on compromise. The amounts which three others brought were credited to the account of J. S. McKeil, though what that amount was is not stated. Others of Mr. McKeil's negroes appear to have been transferred to the bank, and afterwards returned to him on compromise; but how many does not appear.

One negro when purchased, was in Tennessee, and may be there still for all that appears on the record. She belonged to A. J. Greer.

At what rate Mrs. James' negro woman and child were received does not appear from the record. By order of the board, June 24th, 1853, Mr. Drennen was authorized to obtain from the heirs of Mrs. James a perfect title to these negroes, and to sell them for the highest price. What became of them after they passed into the hands of Mr. Drennen does not appear.

In Faulkner's negroes there was an increase of six from natural causes, between the dates of purchase and of sale by the bank.

On the 19th of August, 1841, Mr. Ferguson mortgaged to the Real Estate Bank, to secure the payment of a debt of $8,000, the following negroes to-wit:

Sixteen negroes in all, together with 1,069.33 acres of land. The mortgage was foreclosed, for the benefit of the trustees, in Crittenden county, on the 14th October, 1845, and sale of the land and negroes ordered to be made on the 13th of April, 1846, for the payment of $11,218 76, the amount then of principal and interest on the above debt. At the sale the trustees purchased the land and negroes for the sum of $4,000.

On the 28th of May, 1847, an agreement was entered into between the trustees and Ferguson, by which it was understood that whenever the latter should pay off his indebtedness. the former would reconvey to him the property so purchased by them, or so much as should remain unsold. It was further agreed that if Ferguson should at any time pay off such an amount of his indebtedness, as in the discretion of the trustees, should be equivalent to the value of the slaves purchased, or as many of them as might be living, the trustees would reconvey them to him. The slaves were then estimated to be worth $5,500 par funds.

It was agreed that Ferguson might use the slaves, upon condition that he should not remove them out of the State, and should pay all medical and other expenses; it was distinctly understood that Ferguson should have no right or title to the slaves till he paid the sum of $5,500 in par funds.

The slaves were left in possession of Mr. Ferguson, and are believed to be in his possession at this time. It does not appear that Mr. Ferguson has ever paid or made any arrangement to pay the amount agreed upon for the slaves. He has removed the greater part, if not all of them, out of the State into Tennessee.

No efforts seem to have been made by the trustees, at any time to obtain possession of the negroes, to prevent their removal, or to secure the payment of the money for them.

Mr. Ferguson now positively refuses to pay for them, relying upon the statute of limitation for title.

On the 5th day of April, 1852, the trustees purchased under a decree of foreclosure of mortgage against Wm. H. Patterson, the following slaves, to wit: Jennis, for the sum of $105; Bob for $200; and Tom for $305. What became of these slaves we have no means of ascertaining. In his report to the trustees on the 1st Sept. 1852, of the "present condition of the debts assigned by the Real Estate Bank of Arkansas, to the trustees of the same in Helena district," Mr. Adams says: "Decree foreclosure of mortgage on negroes, they sold and purchased by trustees, but not reduced to possession."

STATE ACCOUNTANT'S OFFICE, REAL ESTATE BANK,
Little Rock, October 10th, 1856.

The foregoing statement of slaves received by the trustees of the Real Estate Bank of the State of Arkansas has been prepared after a careful, thorough, and impartial inspection of the books and papers in the banking house, or office of said trustees, at Little Rock.

*A tract of land known as the "Burnt Store Landing" on the St. Francis river.

RECAPITULATION.

Whole number of acres of stock land bought under decrees of foreclosure of stock mortgages.....	49,989	42
Amount at which these lands were valued when pledged for stock.....	$856,335	59
Amount of decrees against said lands.....	264,884	53
Price bid for these lands.....	80,235	68

N. B.—In the foregoing list of lands are included 2,139 44-100 acres belonging to Pickett & Williamson, which were first, August 21, 1844, taken in payment of debts due to the bank; and, afterwards, April 10, 1846, bought under decree of foreclosure of stock mortgage.

In the list are also included 774 59-100 acres of land, belonging to Wm. M. McPherson, which were first, January 16, 1846, taken from him in payment of debts due to the bank; and, afterwards, October 6, 1851, bought under decree of foreclosure of stock mortgage.

To show these transactions clearly, it was found necessary to introduce these lands both into this list and that which follows. But the net amount of stock lands acquired, both by foreclosure of mortgage and by receiving them in payment of debts, is 62,709 57-100 acres, and not 65,623 60-100 acres, as might be supposed without this explanation.

NOTE.—The foregoing list of transfers of stock is correct as far as it goes, but we are not certain it contains all the transfers made by the stockholders of the Bank. On the 14th June, 1842, the Directors at the Columbia office assented to the transfer of the stock of Wilford Garner and of William Jones to Stephen Gaster, accepted a mortgage from Gaster of the date of 31st May, 1842, on certain of his lands, in lieu of those mortgaged by Garner and Jones, and made an order releasing the lands of Garner, then held by the bank. There is no regular transfer of this stock on the "Transfer Book" of that office; the only evidence being Gaster's mortgage and the order above spoken of.

STATE ACCOUNTANT'S OFFICE, REAL ESTATE BANK,
Little Rock, October 10, 1856.

The foregoing list of Stock transferred, has been prepared from the books and papers in the banking house, or office, of said Trustees at Little Rock, after a careful, thorough and impartial inspection thereof.

NOTES BY ACCOUNTANTS.—This fails to show the exact condition of the Bank at the time of the Assignment.

1st. Because the returns from the offices are of different dates.

2d. Because it does not distinguish what is due to depositors, from what is due to other Banks.

3d. Because it does not distinguish between what was due to or from other banks, and what was due to or from other offices of the Real Estate Banks.

4th. Because it does not distinguish between deposits in part payment of notes and bills discounted, deposits bearing interest, and deposits payable on demand.

5th. Because it does not show the amount of notes of other offices of the Real Estate Bank, on hand at each office, but confounds them, under the head of "bank notes, other than particular banch" with notes of other banks on hand. It thus fails to show the exact amount of outstanding circulation of Real Estate Bank.

6th. Because it omits several assets of the Real Estate Bank, viz: One certificate of deposit at N. Y., $8,000, Corn and Cotton account, $33,342 10. Notes of S. B. of Ark., on hand at Van Buren, $14,570.

NOTE—This is the result of an effort to give a more specific statement of the condition of the Bank on the days embraced in Mr. Newton's "condensed statement," but it has been only in part successful.

The next circulation, or circulation in the hands of the people must have been less than is here stated, but the precise amount cannot be known, as it is impossible to tell what proportion of the notes on hand at the Washington office consisted of Real Estate Bank notes, and what of notes of other banks.

In October, 1846, (more than four years after the date of the assignment,) Governor Drew addressed a letter to the Cashier and Secretary, inquiring as to "the amount of the assets of the bank at the time it was placed in liquidation by the Directors." In answer to this Mr. Newton said, under date of October, 1846,

"as near as I can ascertain from the returns of the several offices, on a hurried examination, the amount was $2,405,966 15."

In another letter addressed to Governor Drew, in reply to similar inquiries, October 30th, 1848, he said:

"When the deed of assignment was made, on the 2 of April, 1842, the Real Estate Bank was indebted at a rough estimate, as follows:

Outstanding sold Bonds, 1530 in No. for principal,	$1,530,000	00
Interest due on the same,	75,735	00
Amount received on 500 hypothicated bonds,	122,389	77
Interest due on the same,	7,648	00
Notes issued by the Bank, outstanding,	495,725	00
Due to Banks and Depositors,	165,410	00
	2,396,907	77

"To meet these demands it had,

In specie,	53,551	62
Principal and interest of loans on notes and bills,	2,000,192	00
Real Estate, valued then at,	34,394	92
Amount due from other banks	30,242	82
Notes of Arkansas Banks and loan to State,	364,535	40
	2,482,916	76

It will be seen that Mr. Newton makes the gross amounts of both means and liubilities greater than we make them. This is owing, 1st. To his allowing 10 per cent, for the exchange it would be necessary to buy to pay the bond holders their interest, thus increasing this item 6,885. 2d. To his including with the money borrowed on the hypothicated bonds, the sum of $1,053 18 which was received from a bank in New Orleans, for the use of part of that money. 3d. To his giving the gross amount of circulation, $495,725, instead of the nett $394,869 67. 4th. To his including in the sum "due to banks and depositors," the sum of $35,555 83, due by offices of the Real Estate Bank, to one another. In these ways, Mr. Newton swelled the liabilities. On the other hand he swelled the assets. 1st. By allowing $76,950 61 for back interest on notes and bills discounted. 2d. By including in the sum due from other banks, the sum of $26,567 50 due by offices of the Real Estate Bank, to one another. 3d. By including under the head of "notes of Arkansas Banks and loans to the State," all the notes of the Real Estate Bank, and its offices, then on hand, except a portion of those at the Washington office. It is plain that the cancelled notes received from New Orleans, could not be used "to meet demands against the Bank," and paying out other notes of the Real Estate Bank and branches would only increase outstanding liabilities. In this way, the sum of assets was swelled $273,353 89. Our account differs further from his. 1st. In charging among the liabilities $5,000 due to the State for bonus. 2d. In enumerating among the assets, three certificates of deposit at New York, two of which, for $5,948 95 Mr. Newton classed with the specie, and the third of which for $8,000, he omitted. 3d. In including among the assets, the following items omitted by him. Due by State Treasurer, $550 00. Corn and cotton account $33,342 10. Chicot county Warrants $5,584 16. Other investments, $1,154 31.

It will be recollected, that Mr. Newton, never spoke of the exhibit he made to Governor Drew, as giving the exact condition of the bank, but, on the contrary, as "a rough estimate" and "hastily prepared."

According to Mr. Newton's exhibit to Governor Drew, the assets of the bank, at the time of the asssignment, exceeded the liabilities in the sum of $86,008 99. According to our "compendious view," the liabilities exceeded the assets in the sum of $102,883 51, which sum will be reduced to $25,932 90, if the back interest on notes and bills discounted, as estimated by Mr. Newton, $76,950 61, be included among the assets.

NOTE—It will be seen, on inspecting this table, that some of the returns are more indefinite than those given in the "compendious view of the condition of the offices, on the days given in Mr. Newton's condensed statement, April to November, 1842."

It is impossible to tell from it, what was the amount of Real Estate Bank notes in circulation, as no statement is given of the amount of issues at Little Rock, then on hand at that office, and it cannot be ascertained, what amount of Real Estate Bank notes are included under the heads of "Cash" "notes of other banks," and "Arkansas Bank notes," as returned by the Little Rock, Washington and Van Buren offices.
